PEACE-MAKING IS TO BEGIN

Russia and Japan Will Negotiate Direct Without an Intermediary.

ARMISTICE IS LIKELY

President's Appeal to the Belligerents Has Brought Speedy and Promising Results.

JAPAN'S TERMS STILL SECRET

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9.

Peacemaking is about to begin between Russia and Japan, and they will negotiate without an intermediary.

The next step will be an armistice, followed by direct negotiations, as suggested in a message sent by the president June 8 to Tokyo and St. Petersburg. This message was made public tonight at the White House. Here is its text:

"The president feels the time has come when in the interest of all mankind he must endeavor to see if it is not possible to bring to an end the terrible and lamentable conflict now being waged. With both Russia and Japan the United States has inherited ties of friendship and good will. It hopes for the prosperity and welfare of each, and it feels the progress of the world set back by the war between these two great nations.

"The President accordingly urges the Russian and Japanese governments, not only for their own sake, but in the interest of the whole civilized world, to open direct negotiations for peace with one another. The president suggests that these peace negotiations be conducted directly and exclusively between the belligerents; in other words, that there may be a meeting of Russian and Japanese plenipotentiaries or delegates without any intermediary, in order to see if it is not possible for these representatives of the two powers to agree to terms of peace.

Begs Belligerents to Meet.

"The president earnestly asks that the Russian and Japanese governments do now agree to such a meeting, and is asking the Japanese and Russian governments likewise to agree. While the president does not feel that any intermediary should be called in in respect to the peace negotiations themselves, he is entirely willing to do what he properly can if the two powers concerned feel that his services will be of aid in arranging the preliminaries as to the time and place of meeting. But if even these preliminaries can be arranged directly between the two powers, or in any other way, the president will be glad, as his sole purpose is to bring about a meeting which the whole civilized world will pray may result in peace."

This identical note was sent to Ambassador Meyer at St. Petersburg to be transmitted at the earliest possible moment to the czar, and to Minister Griscom at Tokyo, to be transmitted to the mikado. President Roosevelt, before leaving for Virginia today, left instructions that it was to be given out for publication as soon as word was received from the American representatives at the two capitals that it had been transmitted to the two sovereigns. Word came late last night from Ambassador Meyer that the czar had received it, and late tonight it was learned that it had been submitted to the mikado. Secretary Loeb, in accordance with the president's instructions, at once gave it out for publication.

Contact Is Established.

This act shows officially that contact has been established between St. Petersburg and Tokyo through Washington. It is also an official indication that both of the belligerent powers have indicated a willingness to begin the peace negotiations. President Roosevelt's work, therefore, is done for the time being, and when he left town today he was removed, temporarily at least, out of the situation, for it is the purpose of the belligerents to settle the terms of peace themselves.

The president's efforts thus far have not resulted in any admission by Japan of the terms she will demand of Russia.

At a late hour tonight Mr. Takahira, the Japanese minister had not been advised from Tokyo of the delivery of the president's message to the mikado, but he was expecting a cablegram to that effect at any moment. The minister was yesterday to transmit to the president a message from the mikado that Japan was, with Russia, desirous of peace, provided, of course, it could be obtained under proper conditions.

Kaiser Has Helped President.

Baron Speck Von Sternburg, the German ambassador, has throughout been the president's right bower in the negotiations, and as the personal envoy of Emperor William has been able from the outset to assure the president absolute and hearty support of the German emperor in any effort to bring about peace. It can now be stated that for days the German emperor has been supplementing the efforts of the president by communication with the czar urging peace. Through the Grand Duke Michael, who attended the wedding of the crown prince in Berlin, the emperor sent the most urgent advice to the czar that peace in the interest of Russia be concluded without further hostilities. The close personal friendship between the president and the German ambassador has been an important factor in the preliminaries.

Aware of the preference of Japan to communicate her peace terms to Russia direct, the president in the last few days has been active in counselling moderation to Japan rather than in endeavoring to draw from Tokyo some statement of probable terms.

At the Russian embassy tonight, Count Cassini remained without advices from St. Petersburg, and was unwilling to comment on any phase of the situation.

FRANCE'S TENDER COMES TOO LATE

Her Ambassador Hurries Home from Russia With News of Mr. Roosevelt's Success.

NO JEALOUSY IS DISPLAYED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, June 8.—M. Boutieron, first secretary of the French embassy, had a long conference with Foreign Minister Lamsdorff this afternoon. M. Bompard, the French ambassador, is hurrying back from Paris, France, instead of displaying jealousy at the initiative taken by President Roosevelt, with a view to bringing Russia and Japan together for peace, has apparently warmly welcomed it and will give it co-operation.

Statements in the dispatches that the president's sole aim is to bring the warring powers together in direct negotiations, have been confirmed. There has been no undertaking on his part to appease Russia of the Japanese terms, nor, it is believed, to find a preliminary basis for negotiations. The main obstacle to the president's efforts, has been removed with the emperor's acquiescence in his initiative, and negotiations are probably now proceeding at Tokyo.

When the question of the naming of peace plenipotentiaries is raised, the name of George De Staci, who preceded Count Benkendorff as Russian ambassador at London, and who was president of the conference at The Hague in 1890, at once occurs to every Russian.

Notwithstanding the progress already made, a great deal of skepticism is manifested in certain quarters as to the result of President Roosevelt's efforts. The public seems reluctant to believe the emperor could have assented to anything like a movement toward peace, but the emperor has cast the die and will make peace if Japan's terms be such that Russia can accept them with dignity.

The emperor, it must be pointed out, has only assented to a proposition submitted by the head of a friendly power and the matter officially goes no further than that. Russia, now as ever, is ready to see if a common basis can be reached.

A council of ministers presided over by the emperor in person was held at Tsarskoe-Selo yesterday afternoon to discuss the situation. His majesty's brother, Grand Duke Michael, who has arrived here from Berlin, was the bearer of a personal message from Emperor William advising peace.

The government is plainly preparing the public for the announcement that the czar has decided to conclude peace and that negotiations have begun, by permitting the publication of all the foreign dispatches bearing on the subject.

In well-informed circles it is believed Japan already has instructed Field Marshal Oyama to stay his hand pending the result of the present tentative negotiations, and that Gen. Linevitch also has been confidentially advised of the situation.

ACTS AGAINST OSTERLING.

Wilkesbarre Grand Jury Recommends His Dismissal as Architect of New Court House.

WILKESBARRE, June 9.—The grand jury in session here for the past two weeks, after making a thorough investigation of the new court house muddle, on for nearly a year, made their final return today. They recommend the dismissal of Fred J. Osterling, the architect, who resides in Pittsburgh, and the employment of another architect.

The jury also censures Wilson J. Smith of this city, the builder, for letting certain contracts for stone and iron to western firms that has been condemned.

$50,000 DAMAGE SUIT AGAINST CARNEGIE MAN

WASHINGTON, PA., June 9.—(Special.)—The case of Charles Stottsberry of Bulger, this county, against Thomas Beadling of Carnegie, Allegheny county, for $50,000 damages for the alleged alienation of his wife's affections, was placed on trial here today. Pages of hotel registers from cities in three states were placed in evidence.

REACH COMPROMISE ON AMALGAMATED SCALE

Men Obtain Average Wage Increase of Seven Per Cent from Republic Company.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

DETROIT, MICH., June 9.—The wage conference of representatives of the Republic Iron and Steel Company and of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers resulted today in a compromise for the year ending July 1, 1906. Retiring President T. J. Shaffer of the Amalgamated association and his associates are elated, last year's scale having been secured through a conciliation board after a conference had failed to reach an agreement.

Under the agreement reached today the men will receive an increase averaging about 7 per cent. They asked for an increase averaging about 11 per cent, a restoration of the scale of 1903-04.

The men yielded their demands in regard to the bar and 12-inch scale and the guide mill scale. The company conceded the men's demands on the boiling and muck mill scales. A compromise amounting to an advance of 7 cents on each card was reached on the piles on board scale, and similar action was taken on the busheling on sand bottom scale, the snobbling scale and the heating slabs and shingling scale.

CIRCUS SEATS COLLAPSE; MANY PERSONS INJURED

Two of Those Hurt May Die—Alleged Negligent Employes of Show Attacked by Citizens.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ALTOONA, June 9.—During the performance of Spangler's circus at Williamsburg late last night, several sections of the seats collapsed, throwing nearly 500 people underneath them. A score of persons were injured. Mrs. William Strasser and Mrs. William Rath were severely cut and bruised and each suffered broken limbs and internal injuries. They may die. Others suffered cuts and bruises.

The accident is attributed to overcrowding, causing the posts which supported the stand to give way. Some of the rougher element, believing that the show people were negligent, attacked them as they were leaving town. Stones and clubs were used and several received injuries.

When the manager of the show asked for fair treatment he was assaulted by the mob and was compelled to take refuge in the home of one of the citizens.

TWO AUTOMOBILE VICTIMS.

Fast Machines Run Down Pedestrian and Bicycle Rider in Dark on City Streets.

The automobile claimed two victims yesterday. Tespel Lochenski of Beaver Falls was struck by a machine, supposed to be owned by Seeley Brothers of Baum street, in the Grant boulevard, near Ashington street, last night. He received a scalp wound which was dressed at the Central station.

An auto driven by Walter Shields of Ellsworth avenue ran into a bicycle ridden by John Buth of 10 Boundary street, in Schenley park last night at the Bellefield avenue bridge. Buth received a cut above the eye and was badly bruised. His bicycle was wrecked.

FRANCIS JURY DISAGREES.

No Verdict Returned in the Trial of the World's Fair President's Son and His Chauffeur.

ST. LOUIS, June 9.—(Special.)—After being out an hour, the jury trying C. B. Francis, son of D. R. Francis, president of the World's Fair, and his chauffeur, William D. Higgins, for assault with intent to kill J. W. Shields of Ponds, St. Louis county, informed Justice Greensfelder, before whom the case was tried in Clayton, that it could not reach a verdict.

The jury was discharged and the case will be retried. The jury stood five for the acquittal of Francis and Higgins and one for conviction.

DEMOCRATS MAY FAVOR STEWART

Philadelphia Paper Starts a Movement for the Indorsement of the Justice.

TELEGRAM FROM COL. GUFFEY

It is altogether probable that the Democratic state convention will indorse the candidacy of Judge John Stewart of Franklin county for justice of the supreme court, to succeed Judge John Dean. The Philadelphia Record, a Democratic paper, has started the movement.

The Quaker city paper yesterday asked Col. J. M. Guffey for an expression of opinion on the question of indorsing Judge Stewart. The Democratic leader sent this reply:

The Democratic party as well as people who favor honest state government are under past obligations to Judge Stewart. The utterances in the platform at the recent Democratic state convention makes the Record's suggestion for his indorsement for the supreme court judgeship very worthy of the consideration of the Democratic party of the state.

Judge Stewart has been appointed by Gov. S. W. Pennypacker to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Justice Dean. Judge Stewart will doubtless be nominated for the full term by the Republican state committee. By indorsing him the Democrats hope to attract independent voters to their candidate for state treasurer, who is a cross between a Prohibitionist and a Silver Democrat. The indorsement of Judge Stewart would not endanger the election of J. Lee Plummer, the Republican nominee for state treasurer. While Col. Guffey has not committed himself, his friends are of the opinion he will give the question serious consideration. Controller John B. Larkin favors the indorsement.

FAILS TO IDENTIFY BODY.

Pittsburgher Takes Vain Trip to View Remains Supposed to Be Those of Zach T. Davies.

LYNCHBURG, June 9.—(Special.)—C. W. Sharrer of 80 Homewood avenue, Pittsburg, came to Lynchburg today and had the body of the stranger who committed suicide here on May 29, exhumed to ascertain whether or not it was the body of Zach T. Davies, who has been missing from that address for three months. He finally decided that the lack of a spot of gray hair in the forehead indicated that the remains were not Davies' and the body was reinterred. Sharrer returned home tonight.

DECISION IS RESERVED IN CALEB POWERS CASE

MAYSVILLE, KY., June 9.—Affidavits in the Caleb Powers case have been filed in the federal court from former Gov. W. S. Taylor, former Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith, former Attorney General John W. Griggs and Postmaster General Cortelyou, showing Taylor was recognized as governor of Kentucky by the national administration. The affidavits were filed to show that Gov. Taylor's pardon to Powers was valid. The case was concluded today, but Judge Cochran reserved decision.

REPUBLIC PROBABLE

Union Flags Replaced by Norwegian Tri-Colors 'Mid Acclaims of People.

KING OSCAR WILL AVOID WAR

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

COPENHAGEN, June 9.—All hope that King Oscar or Crown Prince Gustave will yield to the request of the Norwegian storthing to place a prince of the house of Bernadotte on the throne of Norway has now disappeared, according to a high authority. The Danish royal family has also set the stamp of disapproval on the acceptance of the throne by a Danish prince.

It is understood arrangements are actually being made for a national convention in Norway and this, it is believed, will inevitably result in the declaration of a republic. According to well informed persons here Russia and Germany will refuse to recognize the Norwegian government until King Oscar consents to the disruption of the union. Strong efforts are being made to secure similar action by other governments, including that of Denmark, and it is stated that these efforts are meeting with encouragement.

The Norwegian press and people, according to advices received here, remain singularly undemonstrative. Premier Michelsen wants no demonstrations and today refused to permit a large procession of Christianians, in approval of the action of the storthing. In refusing the premier said:

Too Early to Claim Victory.

"It is too early to claim a victory which has not yet been definitely gained. Our most serious difficulties are probably ahead."

Thousands of telegrams from all parts of the world are pouring in on Premier Michaelsen and the storthing, many of them coming from the United States and South Africa. King Oscar is quoted as saying that he would avoid war at any cost. Officials here say the king and the crown prince had been fully prepared for the action of the storthing by Premier Michelsen, who informed them prior to his majesty's veto of the consular bill as to what steps Norway intended to take.

CHRISTIANA, June 9.—The Norwegian tricolor was hoisted today over Akershus fort and throughout the country in place of the Union flag. The substitution was attended by great ceremony at the fort, where the members of the storthing and 30,000 of the public were assembled. The garrison was paraded and the commandant read the resolution of the storthing dissolving the union with Sweden.

Union Flag Hauled Down.

As the clock in the tower of the fort chimed 10 the Union flag, which had floated there since 1814, was hauled down, the troops presented arms and the band played the patriotic air, "Sons of Norway," and after only a momentary interim the first gun of a national salute boomed, the new flag was broken out and the troops again presented arms. The people then uncovered and cheered wildly, the band adding to the general enthusiasm by playing the popular air, "Yes, We Love This Country," which the crowd sang.

STOCKHOLM, June 9.—Crown Prince Gustave, on his return from Berlin today, was met by the royal family, the ministers and a large crowd of people who cheered him enthusiastically.

King Oscar decided at a meeting of the council of state to summon the riksdag for an extraordinary session June 30. The crown prince was present at the sitting, which had before it the resolution of the Norwegian storthing, which the premier denounced as revolutionary.

Premier Denounces Norwegians.

"By this revolutionary proceeding," said the premier, "the storthing has not only, without the co-operation of the king but without the least consideration of Sweden and on its own authority, determined upon the rupture of the union, which existed by virtue of a mutual convention drawn up in accordance with the laws and which can in no way be broken without the assent of the two countries. Inasmuch as the resolution of the storthing is a great and profound violation of the rights of Sweden, it is indisputably necessary that the riksdag should be summoned in extraordinary session without delay to deliberate on the measures to be taken by Sweden in view of what has passed."

The resignations of the ministers of Sweden and Norway at Copenhagen, Rome and Madrid were tendered by telegraph and accepted.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Mr. A. Grip, who has been here since 1880 as minister from Norway and Sweden, and who is a Norwegian, has engaged steamer passage for next Tuesday. He is returning home to personally learn the situation. When he called at the state department to take leave of the officials he had not made up his mind as to his future course of action.

ACCUSED OF ROBBING CITY.

First Criminal Prosecution is Begun as Result of the Clearing Up in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—(Special.)—Directly following his dismissal from his post as general storekeeper at the Spring Garden water works today, John A. Acker was arrested on the charge of conspiracy to cheat and defraud the city and accepting bribes. This is the first criminal prosecution as a result of Mayor Weaver's general clean-up of the city departments. Robert Bromily, foreman of machinists of the water bureau, was also dismissed today. Acker had a hearing before Magistrate Eisenbrown and was committed in default of $2,000 bail for a further hearing on Friday. He was released late tonight on bail.

HYDE GIVES UP CONTROL

His Majority Stock in the Equitable Passes to Trusteeship.

OFFICERS STEP OUT

James W. Alexander and Four Vice Presidents Resign Their Positions.

ELECT MORTON CHAIRMAN

JAMES HAZEN HYDE has divested himself of the majority control of the Equitable Life Assurance society, his stock passing to a trusteeship headed by Thomas F. Ryan, who is largely interested in the New York Mutual Life Insurance Company.

PAUL MORTON, secretary of the navy, was elected chairman of the board of directors with the positive assurance that he is to have a "free hand as to measures and men."

GROVER CLEVELAND, George Westinghouse and Judge Morgan J. O'Brien have also been selected as trustees of the Hyde stock.

PRESIDENT JAMES W. ALEXANDER, and Vice Presidents James H. Hyde, Gage E. Tarbell, George T. Wilson and William H. McIntyre resigned their offices in the Equitable.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 9.—Thomas F. Ryan is in control of the Equitable Life Assurance society. As the head of a syndicate he has purchased from James Hazen Hyde the stock held by the latter, and which ruled the destinies of the society. This stock is to be placed in the hands of Grover Cleveland, Judge Morgan J. O'Brien and George Westinghouse, as trustees for policy-holders, who henceforth are to have the right to elect 13 out of the 52 directors of the society.

Paul Morton, secretary of the navy, was chosen chairman of the board of directors of the Equitable Life Assurance society at a meeting today, at which other vastly important steps were taken.

James W. Alexander and James Hazen Hyde, president and first vice president, and Gage E. Tarbell, George T. Wilson and William H. McIntyre, vice presidents, placed their resignations in the hands of the new chairman for his action.

Mr. Hyde announced that, having the power to repair the damages done to the society, he had decided to dispose of the majority of the stock of the Equitable held by him to the syndicate headed by Mr. Ryan. Mr. Hyde made the announcement that the men acquiring the stock control had agreed to divest themselves of the power to vote it, and had announced their determination to turn over the control of the society to the policyholders.

Election Was Unanimous.

Mr. Morton was elected unanimously on motion of Senator Depew, seconded by August Belmont, David H. Moffat and James H. Hyde. The secretary of the navy was then escorted to the meeting and observed as he announced his decision to accept the chairmanship, provided a free hand and plenary powers were accorded. This was agreed to, and Mr. Morton became the new chairman.

All of the resignations submitted to the meeting are subject to the pleasure of Chairman Morton. None has yet been accepted. What action Mr. Morton will take on these resignations, was not disclosed, but it was strongly intimated that President Alexander and Vice Presidents Tarbell, Wilson and McIntyre retired with the belief that their executive relations with the Equitable had ended.

The interests to which Mr. Hyde disposed of his stock number some two-score individuals, led by Thomas F. Ryan, vice president of the Morton Trust Company, which has close relations with the Mutual Life Insurance Company, one of the Equitable society's principal rivals. Mr. Ryan is said to be heavily insured in the Equitable, as are many of the others who acted with him in the purchase of the Hyde holdings.

The price paid for the Hyde estate stock, which is to be trusteed practically in perpetuity, was not disclosed, but estimates vary from $1,500,000 to $3,000,000.

Mr. Westinghouse a Trustee.

In addition to the 502 shares held by the Hyde estate, which includes the widow of Henry B. Hyde, founder of the society, and his daughter, Vice President Hyde is said to hold between 100 and 170 shares. It is these holdings which Mr. Untermayer refers to as the "substantial interests" which his client retains.

The men requested by Mr. Ryan to hold the majority stock are former President Grover Cleveland, George Westinghouse of Pittsburgh and Morgan J. O'Brien, recently elevated to the chief justiceship of the appellate division of the supreme court of this district.

Mr. Ryan is the acknowledged head of the Metropolitan Traction Companies, and only a fortnight ago induced Mr. Morton to ally himself with this interest as the operating chief of the New York City Railway Company, by which title the Metropolitan surface lines and their affiliated companies in Manhattan and The Bronx are corporately known. Concerning the purchase of the Equitable stock and the disposition of it Mr. Ryan said:

In connection with some other policyholders who, like myself, have never had any relations with the Equitable, except as policy-holders, I have purchased from Mr. Hyde a majority of the stock of that society. We have made this purchase for the sake of putting an end to the present unfortunate condition of the company's affairs, not only in the interests of the policy-holders, but for the general business interests of the country. We purpose, upon receiving the stock, immediately to divest ourselves of all voting power, and accomplish in substance and effect the plan of mutualization already approved by the superintendent of insurance.

Control to Policy-holders.

We propose to do this by conveying the stock to a board of trustees, composed of men of such character as to command universal confidence, and having no connection with Wall street, with power to vote the stock for the election of directors—as to 26 directors in accordance with the instructions of the policy-holders of the society, and as to the remaining 26 directors in accordance with the unconstrolled judgment of the trustees.

This will at once accomplish the object at putting the control of the company in the hands of the policy-holders and will eliminate entirely the one man power to which so much objection has been made. Our willingness to take this course has been influential in inducing Mr. Morton to accept the chairmanship of the board and to undertake the reorganization of the society, which it is our wish to have made as thorough and complete as possible.

I have already asked ex-President Cleveland, Justice Morgan J. O'Brien and George Westinghouse to act as trustees of the stock. The last two named are among the large policy-holders of the Equitable.

The directors of th Equitable went into session this afternoon, the meeting being attended by 27 of the remaining 37 directors. They were J. W. Alexander, Chauncey M. Depew, A. C. Daming, George H. Squire, Thomas D. Jordan, Charles Stewart Smith, Valentine P. Snyder, Alvin W. Krech, William Alexander, John J. McCook, C. Ledyard Blair, Brayton Ives, James H. Hyde, Gage E. Tarbell, C. B. Alexander, M. Hartley Dodge, J. F. De Navarro, Bradish Johnson, Alfred G. Vanderbilt, August Belmont, H. R. Winthrop, George J. Gould, George T. Wilson, Thomas T. Eckert, William H. McIntyre, H. M. Alexander and David H. Moffatt.

Considered a Hyde Victory.

Mr. Morton's selection is held to be in the nature of a compromise and a victory for the Hyde faction. In any event, the outcome was seemingly a surprise to some of the members of the so-called Alexander forces. There were two sessions of the board, a recess being taken at 5 o'clock this evening when a committee consisting of Senator Depew, Mr. Belmont and Mr. Moffat, was appointed to notify Mr. Morton, who had already been elected a director. The committee spent almost an hour looking for Mr. Morton, who was escorted into the room between files of expectant employes. As the door closed behind him the sound of hand-clapping was heard.

The session following the recess was comparatively brief, the first director to leave being Mr. Ives, who, it has been reported about the corridors, was a candidate for the chairmanship of the board.

Mr. Hyde, after a consultation with his lawyers, issued the following letter to the society's board of directors:

Now that the legal rights of the stockholders have been determined by the supreme court of the state, I have reached the conclusion as the result of the most earnest and anxious reflection that the welfare of the society founded by my father and which I have so dearly at heart demands that the stock controlled shall cease to be vested in any one person, and that I should part with a majority of the stock in such form that no one individual shall continue in control of the destinies of the society.

Wants to Repair Damage.

I have accordingly, but not without great hesitation and personal regret, sold the stock which my father placed in trust. I am advised that as the holder of the controlling stock I have the power and hence the responsibility of repairing the damage that has been inflicted upon the society, in so far as that may be possible.

It is in the discharge of that responsibility that I have parted with a majority of the stock in the interest of the policyholders and in a form which I believe will enable the society to regain its prestige and resume its interrupted era of prosperity. If that be the result, I shall be content.

In this connection you will perhaps pardon me for repeating what I have so often said to you, that throughout my career with the society its interests have always been uppermost and I have never consciously done or omitted anything which would be to its injury or disadvantage.

I also may be pardoned the statement that the prosperity of the society of late years is at this time my greatest source of pride and consolation. I am quite content to submit my acts in connection with the management of the society to the verdict of all fair-minded men, when the unreasoning public clamor inspired by false and sensational attacks upon me shall have passed. I shall retain a substantial stock interest and hope to continue to be identified with the affairs of the society as a director and in such other ways as may be deemed desirable.

Free Hand for Chairman.

In order that the chairman who has been selected may have a free hand in the management, I shall hand to him my resignation as vice president, for such action as you may deem advisable. You may rely on my earnest co-operation at all times in the accomplishment of the task of reinstating the society in the public confidence and esteem.

The purchasers of the stock have expressed their intention to divest themselves of all voting power and immediately put control of the company in the hands of policyholders, notwithstanding the pending litigation, by conveying the stock to a board of trustees of such character as to command universal confidence and not connected with any financial institution, and giving them power to vote it for the election of directors, thus following the plan of mutualization already approved by the insurance department and eliminating the one-man power to which so much objection has been made.

Provision is intended also to be made for an amendment of the charter so as to perpetuate this control of the policy-holders. I think you will find that everything possible has been done to insure the resumption of the interrupted prosperity of the society.

Mr. Morton left the Equitable building by a private exit and went to the Morton Trust Company where he was closeted with Mr. Ryan and several others, including Mr. Untermyer. Mr. Morton declined to discuss the meeting except to say he had relinquished the position as chief of the Metropolitan Traction Company and its proposed subway extension and that he had accepted the Equitable chairmanship.

This evening Mr. Ryan made public a letter to Mr. Cleveland, named as one of the trustees. Copies were also sent to Justice O'Brien and Mr. Westinghouse.

Request to Mr. Cleveland.

After reviewing Equitable affairs in the letter Mr. Ryan asks Mr. Cleveland to accept a place on the board of trustees in the following words:

I beg you to act as one of this board with other gentlemen who shall be of a character entirely satisfactory to you. I should not venture to ask this of you on any personal grounds, but to restore this great trust, affecting so many people of slender means, to soundness and public confidence would certainly be a great public service, and this view emboldens me to make the request.

The duties of the trust would be very light, as in the nature of things, when a satisfactory board is once constituted there are few changes, and all the clerical and formal work would be done by the office force of the company. I have written similar letters to Justice Morgan J. O'Brien, presiding justice of the appellate division of our supreme court, and to Mr. George Westinghouse of Pittsburgh, two of the largest policy-holders in the society.

Mr. Morton's election is believed to mean the solution of the controversy which began between the Hyde and Alexander factions in the Equitable society, some six months ago, and which became publicly known in February of this year. There were charges of irregularities and gross extravagances on both sides, the fight at times waging with such bitterness as to threaten the welfare of the institution, which numbers some 600,000 policyholders, with assets in excess of $400,000,000, and a surplus estimated at $80,000,00.

History of the Charges.

Chief among the charges preferred by Vice President Hyde was that President Alexander, as a trustee of the Hyde stock, was desirous of wresting control from the estate. On the other hand it was charged by Mr. Alexander that Mr. Hyde and his friends were conducting the affairs of the society without regard for the welfare of the policy holders.

It was Mr. Alexander's contention that the well being of the society demanded its mutualization, that is, an actual voice by vote in the affairs of the society by every policy holder. Mr. Hyde agreed to the plan of mutualization and in the meantime suits against the society were begun in this and other states resulting in various forms of litigation. The plan to mutualize the society was recently defeated or stopped by decision of Justice Maddox of the supreme court of this state.

One of the disturbing factors throughout the situation was Second Vice President Tarbell who, as head of the agency division, incited a movement against Vice President Hyde. There were also charges of "syndicate operations," made by President Alexander against Mr. Hyde and some of his associates on the board of directors of the Equitable, and in reply to this Mr. Hyde stated that Mr. Alexander had participated in the operations.

As a result of these revelations an investigating committee was formed in the Equitable directorate, headed by H. C. Frick. The committee presented a voluminous report which criticized practically all the leading executive officers of the society. The report was rejected, whereupon Mr. Frick and his associates on the committee, with the exception of Brayton Ives, resigned from the directorate, as also did half a dozen others.

The proposition to elect a chairman of the board of directors with plenary power to organize the society in all its branches, was then determined upon and resolutions were adopted calling for a complete change of policy in the executive and financial departments. Mr. Morton's selection under the conditions named will effect these reforms.

JUDGE O'BRIEN WILLING TO ACCEPT TRUSTEESHIP

Will Not Hesitate if Messrs. Cleveland and Westinghouse Will Also Assume the Responsibilities.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 9.—George Westinghouse, who is registered at the St. Regis, had a party at dinner tonight and retired to his apartments as soon as it was finished. Anticipating the visits of reporters, he instructed the management of the hotel that under no circumstances was he to be disturbed.

Judge Morgan J. O'Brien received the notice of his selection while at the Manhattan club this evening. To a reporter Judge O'Brien said:

I have just received the letter notifying me of my selection and have not yet made up my mind as to just what my duty is. I may say that if Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Westinghouse accept the responsibilities which this selection imposes, I shall undoubtedly feel it my duty to accept also.

I should be very glad to do whatever is within my power, without any fee, reward or compensation of any kind, to restore this great institution to public confidence. Personally I am interested in the welfare of the Equitable to a very large extent. All that I possess is invested in that institution, as I began my investment there more than 30 years ago, and altogether I have more than $150,000 invested in its policies, so that I have a natural and a personal interest in the rehabilitation of the company.

Aside from my holdings, however, I have always maintained that the company belonged to the policy-holders, and that in their interests it was necessary to disregard the personal claims of a few individuals and to proceed upon the broader basis of what would serve best the interests of the policyholders and the general public.

Thomas F. Ryan has been associated with large financial interests almost since his boyhood. Born in Nelson county, Va., in 1851, he went to Baltimore to seek his fortune in 1868 and entered a drygoods commission house. It was not long, however, before he had obtained a place in a bank, and, after two years he came to this city, formed a partnership with a stock broker and prospered so well that in 1874 he was able to buy a seat on the stock exchange. He thus became associated with men like Jay Gould, William R. Travers, Samuel J. Tilden and others of large influence.

It was in 1886 that Mr. Ryan began, with the late William C. Whitney, the work of obtaining and consolidating the surface railway lines of this city, and since then he has been conspicuous in the development and organization of steam railroads, the consolidation and extension of electric street railways and lighting plants and the management of many industrial and financial institutions.

He was the original promoter of the Metropolitan Street Railway, and was active in the negotiations which resulted in the various absorptions, the development into the present system, culminating in the acquisition of the Third Avenue Railroad Company.

HAD HIS EYE ON MORTON WHEN TROUBLE STARTED

David H. Moffat Tells How Election of New Equitable Chairman Was Brought About.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 9.—"I have had my eye on Paul Morton since the beginning of the Equitable crisis," said David H. Moffat of Denver tonight, at the Fifth Avenue hotel. "I wrote to him last week asking him if he would consent to accept the chairmanship of the Equitable if events shaped themselves so that he could accept it.

"He wrote me that special business would require him to come to New York this week, and on further discussion with him I found that he was willing to be a candidate. This fact was made known to the other members of the nominating committee. I canvassed the situation thoroughly with a view to Mr. Morton's election, and I found there was only a slight opposition to him on the part of the members of the nominating committee.

"Paul Morton's name was suggested to me. I knew his father and knew Paul when he was a child. I knew his capabilities, his limitations and his character. In my opinion, there was no man better fitted for the office than Mr. Morton.

"At first, Mr. Belmont demurred when the name was presented. Mr. Forgan and Mr. Fitzgerald, the other two members of the nominating committee, were ill and unable to attend the meetings. It was on this account that our committee decided not to make a formal recommendation that any individual be chosen."

TRANSIT PLANS MIGHT CAUSE BIG BUILDING TO COLLAPSE

Commission Inspecting Philadelphia City Hall to See Whether Direct Tunnel Is Possible. Structure Must Be Sealed.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—City hall, sealed and silent, its magnificent archways walled up and its handsome windows closed with brick and mortar—that is the spectacle that will be witnessed by Philadelphia citizens for six months or more if the Rapid Transit Company carries out the subway plans it now has under consideration. There is great danger of the building collapsing while the work is in progress.

The very thought of such a catastrophe is blood-curdling. It was the possibility of such a danger that prompted the appointment by the transit company of a commission of experts, who are now completing a thorough examination of the entire structure to determine whether or not a direct tunnel is possible.

The commission has virtually concluded its inspection of the foundations of city hall and is now examining the superstructure. While its report will not be made until early next week, it is pretty definitely known that the whole center of the building will have to be "shored up" to prevent collapse if a tunnel is bored under the foundations. In addition to the immense amount of shoring during the construction of the tunnel, it will be necessary to solidify the structure above the line of the excavations.

This will mean that the windows and archways opening east and west will be walled up. Passage through the courtyard will be closed to the public.

ORIGINAL OWNER WILL GET CHARITY STATUE

Huge Wooden Group Lowered from Top of Avenue Theater With Little Damage.

The huge wooden statue of charity, which for nearly 40 years has stood guard above the Grand opera house and Avenue theater, was shortly before midnight lowered to the street and for the second time in its interesting history is to become connected with an Odd Fellows' institution.

Shortly after the fire John A. Myler, the former postmaster of Allegheny, went to Harry Davis, owner of the two theaters, and made application for the statue. It developed that Mr. Myler was the man who made the statue 40 years ago and it developed further that the bill on account of it had never been paid by the Odd Fellows' organization which had had the statue placed on the building. The structure was originally built by the organization, primarily for its home, and on the upper story was the assembly hall.

Mr. Davis at once promised to turn the statue over to Mr. Myler. He will take it today to the home for widows and orphans of Odd Fellows at Ben Avon and there it will again be erected.

The statue was lowered last night with block and tackle and much sweating and shouting. In the long descent the hand which closely clasps one infant to the central figure was broken and if Charity had not been a wooden lady, the poor little child would have fallen to the street. The other child, which clings to Charity's garments, lost a part of one leg, but a few tenpenny nails sufficed to perform the needful surgical operations and restore the group to fairly good condition.

Mr. Myler's family is divided on a question which has arisen in connection with the statue. In the recent fire it was rather badly scorched and blackened. Shall the original bright appearance be restored or shall the statue remain in its present condition as a lasting memorial of the big theater fire? What shall be done it is not as yet settled.

CHOATE IS WELCOMED HOME BY PILGRIMS

In His Address He Pays Delicate Tribute to President's Place in Hearts of English.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 9.—Joseph H. Choate, the returning ambassador to the court of St. James, was welcomed home tonight by the Pilgrims of the United States at a banquet at Delmonico's, at which Bishop Potter, president of the society, presided. President Roosevelt wrote the following letter of regret:

I have your letter of the 10th inst., transmitting the invitation of the Pilgrims of the United States to attend their dinner to Ambassador Choate on the evening of the ninth of June. I wish it were possible for me to accept, but I have already had to refuse several such invitations. It is simply out of the question for me to leave Washington at the time of your banquet. Mr. Choate, as ambassador, rendered high and useful service not merely to his own country and to the country to which he was accredited, but to all mankind, and it is eminently fit that good Americans should join to pay him honor.

Mr. Choate was introduced by Bishop Potter. He said:

I feel sure every man, woman and child in Great Britain is friendly to us. There is one living American who appeals very strong to their imaginations and is the universal subject of interest, curiosity and applause. If his name were submitted to their suffrages it would command the same overwhelming support that it does among his own countrymen. You will not require me to mention his name.

The announcement was made by Mr. Choate that Gen. Roberts, the "first pilgrim of all," would visit this country next October. Gen. Roberts is the president of the English society of the pilgrims.

HYDE HAS MANY OFFERS FOR HIS EQUITABLE STOCK

Repeated Efforts Made to Secure His Holdings in the Interest of Railroads or Banking Combinations.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 9.—Repeated efforts have been made since the Equitable's trouble was precipitated to buy Mr. Hyde's stock in the interest of one or another of the different railroad or banking combinations. Mr. Hyde has steadily refused to allow the control to be acquired by any one interest.

About two weeks ago he was approached by representatives of some of the largest of the Equitable's policyholders. The proposal was made that those policy-holders would get together a group to acquire the control of the stock. This was the only proposition of all that had been made that appealed to Mr. Hyde.

It is understood that among the group of policy-holders represented by Mr. Ryan, besides Mr. Ryan himself and his son, who has a policy for $50,000 in the Equitable, were George Westinghouse, with a $100,000 policy; Samuel Newhouse of Salt Lake City with a $450,000 policy; the Hon. Morgan J. O'Brien with $100,000, and men of that caliber with policies amounting to a very large sum.

Adopt Revised Liturgy.

ASBURY PARK, N. MAGNIFICENT GIFTS FOR ROYAL PAIR

Marriage of Princess Margaret Victoria and Swedish Prince a Near Event.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, June 9.—Interest in society circles has begun to center on the coming wedding of Prince Gustavus Adolphus, eldest son of Crown Prince Gustave of Sweden and Norway, and Princess Margaret Victoria, daughter of the Duke of Connaught. Guests will begin to arrive next week.

The duke and duchess of Connaught gave a garden party at Clarence house today, for the display of the magnificent wedding gifts. The duke and duchess of Connaught gave their daughter a diamond tiara and a sable coat; King Edward and Queen Alexandra gave a magnificent tiara of rubies and diamonds, while a beautiful necklace of rubies and diamonds is the joint gift of the prince and princess of Wales, Princess Louise and the duke of Fife, Princess Victoria and prince and Princess Charles of Denmark. The khedive of Egypt sent a diamond tiara. The duchess of Abercorn and other Irish persons on behalf of the ladies of Ireland, presented Princess Margaret Victoria with beautiful wedding lace and a veil of choice Irish manufacture. Baron von Bildt, the minister of Sweden and Norway, on behalf of the Swedish and Norwegian residents of London, presented the princess with a service of gold plate.

The four bridesmaids will be Princess Mary of Wales, Princess Patricia, Connaught, Princess Beatrice of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, and Princess Eugenie of Battenburg. The wedding dress is a cloud of pure white Irish lace, posed over white satin and strewn with garlands of orange blossoms and myrtles. The corsage is cut low and there is the regulation court train.

CZAR CABLES THANKS TO ADMIRAL ROJESTVENSKY

Wishes Him Speedy Recovery and Says His Bravery Will Always Be a Source of Pride to Russia.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, June 9.—Emperor Nicholas has cabled the following message to Admiral Rojestvensky:

"From my heart I thank you and all the officers of the squadron who have honorably done their duty, for your unselfish work for Russia and for me. By the will of the Almighty, success was not destined to crown your endeavors, but your boundless bravery will always be a source of pride to the country. I wish you a speedy recovery. May God console you all."

(Signed) "NICHOLAS."

The peculiar wording of the message is attracting attention. The restriction of the emperor's thanks to those honorably doing their duty is fanning the ugly talk regarding the surrender of ships and the conduct of some of the crews.

PAUL MORTON SAYS IT IS TOO SOON TO TALK

New Chairman of the Equitable Declares He Will Devote His Entire Time to the Society's Affairs.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 9.—At the close of the Pilgrims dinner tonight Mr. Morton was asked to amplify his earlier statements concerning his plans in the Equitable.

"I do not see what I can say more than I have said," he replied.

"What will you do with the resignations of the directors that are now in your hands?" he was asked.

"That I cannot tell tonight," he said. "You see, my connection with the Equitable is of such a recent date that it is utterly impossible for me to discuss the matter now. I shall take up my new duties at once and shall devote nearly my entire time to the work for some time at least."

LET PRISONER ESCAPE.

McKees Rocks Police Circles Exercised Over Officer's Failure to Arrest Burglar.

There was a stir yesterday in the McKees Rocks police circles over the escape of an alleged burglar and last night the police committee held an investigation to determine whether Charles Miller, a policeman, was guilty of negligence of duty.

A man was caught in the office of Charles Neidhard, a scrap iron dealer in Island avenue, by two employes after he had opened the safe. The two Italians employed by Neidhard took charge of him and started for the police station. The man fought to get away. A crowd interfered with the men and the prisoner escaped. Officer Miller appeared as the man got away, but made no effort to capture him, it is said.

SEA MONSTER IS ONLY A WHALE

OLD ORCHARD, ME., June 9.—(Special.)—Portions of the carcass of a monster of the sea which washed ashore yesterday, and, being unrecognizable as of any creature old sea captains ever saw before, led to reports it was a sea serpent, have been identified by Prof. A. H. Norton as those of a whale. F. A. Sidelinger, who discovered the carcass, has refused $1,000 for the skeleton, which he will have mounted.

THESE HUMP RESOLUTIONS LAID ON THE TABLE

Resolutions indorsing the removal of the hump were laid on the table by unanimous vote of the Oakland board of trade last night. It was declared that the board should not be placed on record until the ordinance for the work should be brought up before the city councils. The members will hold an outing in Luna park on July 20.

Fire Destroys Glass Factory.

WASHINGTON, PA., June 9.—(Special.)—The Atlas Glass Company's factory in the Fourth ward was destroyed by fire tonight, entailing a total loss of $20,000, fully covered by insurance. The lumber yard of Dester, Stewart & Rossel adjoining was also burned, involving a loss of $8,000 with little insurance. A spark from a passing Baltimore & Ohio engine started the fire.

Killing of Goodwin a Mystery.

CLARKSBURG, W. VA., June 9.—Mystery surrounds the death this morning at his home on Grass Run, this county, of Oliver L. Goodwin, which resulted from a bullet wound received in the head Thursday morning at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Goodwin says a burglar shot him.

UNABLE TO ESCAPE JAPANESE TRAP

Report of Admiral Enquist Shows Togo's Strategy Helped to Win the Korean Conflict.

RUSSIAN GUNNERY WAS POOR

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, June 10.—The emperor has received a long telegram from Rear Admiral Enquist, dated at Manila, June 5, describing that portion of the battle of the sea of Japan on May 27, which took place between the Tsu island and Kotsu island. Admiral Enquist says:

"A Japanese squadron appeared at 1:45 p. m. to the north and engaged us in a tactical conflict, not permitting us to pass them in the direction of Vladivostok. Every time our squadron turned toward the north, the superior speed of the Japanese enabled them to outstrip us, while at the same time they concentrated their fire on our leading battleships. The Japanese squadron consisted of nine battleships and cruisers and the Japanese battleship Chinyen maneuvered separately, trying to take our ships between two fires. These tactics continued throughout the battle, and greatly hampered our transports.

Russian Ships Disabled.

"Fifty minutes after the opening of the battle our battleship Oslabya was sunk and the battleship Borodino was disabled. Soon afterward the battleship Kniaz Souvaroff was on fire, losing her masts and funnels and becoming disabled. Our squadron turned to protect the Kniaz Souvaroff, but the Borodino resumed her place in the column, which was now headed by the battleship Alexander III.

"The Japanese tactics compelled our squadron to move in a circle around the transports and torpedo boats, while the Japanese moved in an exterior circle. Owing to the inferior speed of our vessels it was difficult to escape this position, but before sunset our squadron resumed its voyage to the northward. At this time one of our torpedo boats near the Kniaz Souvaroff hoisted a signal that the command had been transferred to Rear Admiral Nebogatoff. The Alexander III. then left the column severely damaged. The Borodino, which was then at the head of the column, received the enemy's concentrated fire and at sunset after firing her last shot, sank.

Ships Turn Southward.

"Perceiving the number of Japanese torpedo boats engaged in the action the squadron, which had now lost the Kniaz Souvaroff, the Borodino, the Oslobya, the Kamtchatka and the Russ, turned to the southward. My cruisers in fighting the Japanese cruisers squadron, suffered greatly by the large calibre of the Japanese projectiles. With the coming of night the Japanese torpedo boat attacks commenced, the results of which I am unable to report, owing to my inability to distinguish between the Russian and Japanese vessels. Several times I endeavored to escape to the northward, but was always reattacked and was obliged to turn to the southward.

"On the morning of May 28 not knowing the whereabouts of the remainder of our squadron, facing the risk of meeting the whole Japanese fleet and having been greatly damaged and wanting coal, I decided that ships then under my command should make for Manila. The conduct of my crew is above praise."

LONDON, June 10.—The Tokyo correspondent of the Times, in an interesting account of the naval battle in the straits of Korea, says:

Russian Fire Ineffectual.

"Admiral Togo entered the arena with the best fighting material of his own squadron, four battleships and the cruisers Nishin and Kasuga, and Vice Admiral Kamimura's squadron of six armoured cruisers, Togo steaming 14 and Kamimura 16 knots. The Russians opened fire at 12,000 meters. It was wholly ineffectual. The Japanese reserved their fire until within 7,500 meters, when they fired six trial shots and scored three hits. The battle then became general. The Russians perpetually essayed to force their way northward, but Japanese as constantly headed them back, so the Russian course described a loop, their ships filing past the Japanese, who poured in a deadly fire from three directions.

"The Russians maintained much the higher rate of fire, but their aim was bad and ineffectual. Togo's strategy completely succeeded. But the most important part of his plan remained for night, he loosing his squadrons of torpedo boats upon the disabled Russians. These rushed from three quarters, reserving their missiles till within 300 metres, and making practice so deadly that it redeemed all previous failures.

"The battle shows no novel features. Nothing was more notable than the Japanese skill in using torpedoes, contrasting markedly with their previous ill-success and evidently resulting from the special course of training they recently pursued, together with the teachings of experience."

CADETS IN MIMIC WAR.

They Make a Realistic Sham Nigh Attack on West Point, Its Defenders Being Beaten.

WEST POINT, N. Y., June 9.—The board of visitors and hundreds of spectators were treated tonight to an exhibition of mimic warfare in a minor tactical problem, presented by a night attack on West Point. Six companies of cadets were divided into two forces, one attacking and the other defending. Capt Stewart commanding the assailants and Capt Davis the defense. Capt. Exton had charge of the mountain battery and Lieut. Glade the machine guns. The attacking force was victorious.

The board of visitors followed the movements of the attack in carriages. Every detail of a real engagement was carried out, the "dead" being borne away on stretchers and the "wounded" being cared for by the hospital corps and taken from the field in ambulances. The flashing of the guns in the darkness and the roar and rattle of the gatlings, gave a realistic imitation of an actual battle.

WHEELING MAN SHOT DEAD.

Pistol Duel in Which One Participant Is Killed and the Other Probably Mortally Wounded.

KANSAS CITY, June 9.—In a revolver fight between Edward C. Schneider, a barber, and John Dugan, a sporting man, in Kansas City, Kan., tonight, Schneider was killed and and Dugan was probably mortally wounded, a result of a feud of several months standing.

Schneider sued his wife for divorce a few months ago, naming Dugan as corespondent. The case is now pending in the circuit court of Jackson county, Missouri. After filing the suit, Schneider went to his home in Wheeling, W. Va., where his mother lives. The Kansas City (Kan.) police think that Schneider came from Wheeling recently to kill Dugan.

WEAVER NAMES ADVISORY BODY

Fourteen Leading Citizens of Philadelphia Will Act as the Executive's Cabinet.

WILL AID IN REFORM WORK

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau
Press Building,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 9.

Mayor Weaver has announced the names of the 14 citizens who will compose his advisory staff and who, for the remainder of his administration, will have a large voice in shaping the policy of the administration. He has selected men who need no introduction to the citizens, all of them being prominent in their lines of business and professions. They are: John H. Converse, William Potter, Hugh McCaffrey, Rudolph Blankenburg, Charles Emery Smith, W. F. Harrar, Mahlon N. Kline, Francis B. Reeves, W. T. Tilden, W. W. Justice, Morris Newburger, Dr. John Musser, John H. Michener and Charles H. Harding.

These men will meet at the mayor's office at noon on Monday to discuss the city situation generally and to exchange views. Mayor Weaver expects to achieve great results by securing the help of this staff. He said today:

"I desire to confer with these gentlemen on all important matters. Many questions are bound to arise during the remainder of my term, and I desire to deal with them to the best interests of the city. Every gentleman on the staff is thoroughly capable to give sound and disinterested advice. We shall hold frequent consultations for general discussion, so no question of importance will have to be met in a hurry. There must be many intricate financial questions which will have to be decided and in these cases the advice of these gentlemen will be of great value."

On the advisory staff are six members of the town meeting committee of nine, which has already greatly aided the mayor. These are Messrs. Converse, Potter, Kline, Reeves, Tilden and Justice.

Everyone of the men appointed by the mayor as his advisors are prominent in business or professional circles, and most of them have taken an active part in the fight for the political regeneration of Philadelphia.

John H. Converse, head of the great Baldwin Locomotive Works, has been identified with many movements for reform. William Potter, former minister to Italy, is a leading member of the bar. He was active in the fights against the "ripper" bills and the gas lease.

Rudolph Blankenburg has been prominent in movements for civic betterment for many years and has been one of the bitterest opponents the organization has had. He is in the wholesale cloth business. Mahlon N. Kline is a member of the wholesale drug house of Smith, Kline & French. He was prominently identified with the Municipal league during its campaign against Mr. Weaver. William T. Tilden is a wholesale wool merchant. As a member of the board of education he has figured conspicuously as an antagonist of organization methods.

William W. Justice, like Mr. Tilden, is a wholesale wool merchant. He has been keenly interested in the fight against corrupt rule and has offered to give nearly $7,000 toward the movement.

INGALLS STILL RETAINS A POLICY FOR $100,000

CINCINNATI, June 9.—(Special.)—"The reason I cancelled my $145,000 policy in the Equitable Life Assurance society," said M. E. Ingalls today, "was that I did not care to carry it if the present management was to continue. It was taken out only a short time ago. My other policy for $100,000 I shall retain. I have had it for a long time and do not propose to let it go."

POLICE OFFICIAL TO STAND TRIAL

Supt. Wallace Suspended Pending an Investigation of the Charges Against Him.

VERDICT IN GRAFT CASES

Superintendent of Police Alexander Wallace was suspended by Director Moore yesterday pending an investigation into charges that he had behaved in a manner unbecoming an officer. The complaint against Wallace was made by Attorneys John C. Haymaker and John Marron, who are conducting the Allegheny graft prosecutions. They allege Wallace insulted A. A. Dachroth, a former Allegheny police officer, who is assisting them in their prosecutions.

In this connection Dachroth sent Mayor Hays the following letter:

I wish to inform you about Superintendent Wallace, who was out back driving last night in Allegheny with a woman out of Old No. 81 West Robinson street. When they got out of the cab in front of No. 81 they were both intoxicated and the woman also carried a quart bottle of liquor in her hand. And as I was standing three doors below he remarked: "Hey, there, you fellow with a straw hat," and I paid no attention and he came down and said; "Oh, you cheap ——, you are a cur." I told him to get away from me, for I did not want to have anything to do with him. And he still repeated the same several times as I mentioned above. Lieutenant Dixon was present and I ordered him to arrest him. He refused and said I knew him. They went into No. 81 West Robinson street and were there one hour and a half, and still they were there when we left. Hoping you will investigate this, as I will not stand for any superintendent calling me such names as that. I have a good reputation and don't consider myself a thief or a cur.

Hearing Fixed for Wednesday.

Mayor Hays did not receive the letter until noon. At 11 o'clock Attorneys Marron and Haymaker went to Director Moore's office and complained of Supt. Wallace's conduct. The attorneys said they had absolute proof for their allegations and asked the director to make an investigation. Moore told the attorneys he would arrange for a hearing in the case next Wednesday, at the regular meeting of the police trial board. Attorneys Marron and Haymaker wanted the hearing set before that time, but Moore refused.

Moore tried to reach Wallace, but was informed that he had not reported at his office. It was then noon, and Moore wrote Wallace a letter informing him of his suspension.

Asst. Supt. Edward Kennelly was notified by Director Moore to take charge of the police bureau until further notice. Before suspending Wallace Director Moore called up Mayor Hays and received his approval.

It was late when Supt. Wallace reached his office, but he saw the notice of his suspension on the bulletin board. Wallace denies the charge of Dachroth. He said:

Wallace Denies Incident.

"I don't know Dachroth and would not know him if I saw him. I never spoke to him and have no recollection of seeing him."

Attorneys Marron and Haymaker allege Wallace has been assisting the Allegheny police department by intimidating and arresting their witnesses in the graft prosecutions. Wallace denies this. They also informed Moore they had evidence against the police department of Pittsburgh which they would submit at the proper time. The nature of these charges Attorney Marron refused to reveal. Director Moore said:

"Attorneys Marron and Haymaker are reputable, responsible men. They assured me they had direct evidence against Supt. Wallace, and for that reason I suspended him. If Wallace is guilty of the charges he is not a fit person to be in the employ of the city."

Dachroth is positive it was Supt. Wallace who insulted him in Allegheny. The employes about the safety building say Dachroth is mistaken, and that it was another person who accosted him. Lieut. Dixon and the woman with whom Wallace was alleged to be deny that Wallace was there.

Dachroth Tells His Story.

Dachroth says early yesterday morning he was standing in front of 81 Robinson street, Allegheny, when Wallace and a woman drove up in a carriage. He alleges Wallace abused him and he turned to Lieut. Dixon and asked him to place Wallace under arrest, but the police officer refused to comply on account of the standing of Wallace. Dachroth alleges Wallace and the woman were intoxicated, and the woman carried a quart bottle of whisky under her arm.

Following this incident Dachroth was placed under arrest by Policeman W. W. Williams for corner-loafing. Dachroth says he was standing at Craig and Robinson streets, waiting to serve subpoenas on some women to appear against Capt. James Wilson in his coming trial. The witnesses are inmates of disorderly houses, and he was awaiting their return from a dance. The officer insisted that Dachroth "move on." Dachroth refused, and submitted the order of the court to Williams and explained his mission again.

"If you were the judge himself I would lock you up," is the alleged reply of the officer.

Dachroth Paid a Fine.

Dachroth was taken to the station house, where he put up a forfeit for his appearance at a hearing before Magistrate Abernathey. He was fined $3 and costs, which he paid. At noon yesterday Attorney Marron went in court and filed a petition against Williams for contempt of court, and asked the hearing be set for this morning.

Wallace has been connected with the police bureau since June, 1863. He is 43 years old and was born here. For years he kept a saloon in Wylie avenue, but in 1896 he moved to Canton, O., where he opened a saloon and restaurant. Wallace served in the capacity of a detective but a short time when he was made assistant superintendent of police, and later given charge of the bureau by Mayor Hays.

"If charges had been made to me against any official I would have to have evidence before I would suspend him," said Mayor Hays yesterday in discussing the action of Director Moore suspending Supt. Wallace. "I approve of what Director Moore has done, although I do not know what charges have been made against Wallace.

Judges for Wallace.

"I have not seen Wallace, nor have I had a chance to talk over the matter much with Director Moore. I will see the director tomorrow. I got Dachroth's letter this afternoon. The postmark shows that it was mailed in Allegheny today at noon. This shows that he must have given out the story before he gave it to us, for I was asked about it by a newspaper man at 11 o'clock this morning. I do not know what course will be taken in the matter. I presume that Wallace will be tried by the director and myself, because the new charter grants him a trial by a jury of his peers. I believe the director and myself are the only persons who can try the case legally."

The mayor was asked if Superintendent of Detectives McQuaide could not sit as one of the judges in the case with the director and the mayor. Mayor Hays said he did not think so, although he gave no reason for this opinion.

Lieut. John Boland and Policeman Frederick Trautvetter of the Allegheny force, who were on trial for conspiracy, were acquitted yesterday. The verdict was received by Judge McClung. Attorney Marron said the action of the jury would not affect the other prosecutions. The case against Captain Wilson will be tried next week.

Leave for Tile Layers' Convention.

T. H. Williams, business agent, and A. Greenwood, representing the tile layers, and J. Donaldson, Harry McDermott and James Conoley, representing the helpers, of the International Association of Ceramic, Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers and Tile Layers' Helpers, left last night for Boston to attend the seventh annual convention of the organization. The local delegates are instructed to make a fight for next year's convention.

Will Give John Smith a Number.

Thirteen applicants were examined at a navy recruiting station in McKeesport yesterday and only one man passed. His name is John Smith and on account of the exceptionally large number of persons by that name he will receive a number when he enters the service.

STEEL BARGE PROVES A COMPLETE SUCCESS

American Bridge Company's Experimental Craft for Rivers Stands Test of Use.

With the experiment proved to be a complete success, the American Bridge Company laid at Ambridge the foundation for an important part of its business, in the construction of steel barges for service on the rivers of this and other sections. Already the company has orders for 20 barges on its books, and a number have been delivered to river interests. It is expected that for the transportation of coal, steel products and in ferry service they will displace the wooden barge as completely as the steel car is displacing the wooden car in similar service on railroads.

The boats are constructed from structural shapes, the plates being of 3-16th and 8-inch thickness. When riveted and calked they are made as watertight as a wooden barge and are far less liable to damage from snags or collisions.

It is expected one barge a week will be turned out from the present plant. Sufficient space has been alloted to the department to allow its growth to a greater capacity. Among the companies which have already placed the barges in service are the Wellman-Seaver-Morgan Company of Cleveland, which is using a barge for loading fuel on the rivers, the Union Sand Company, St. Louis; the Wiggins Ferry Company, St. Louis, controlled by the St. Louis Terminal Railway Company, and the American Steel and Wire Company.

The argument for the boat which is having much effect, is its greater life. It is claimed that wooden barges will not remain in commission more than 10 years, while the steel barge is so built as to be capable of from 30 to 50 years' service.

CONVENTION CLOSES.

Allegheny District of Epworth Leagues Ends Annual Session by Pledging Support of Federation of Churches.

The 15th annual convention of the Allegheny district of Epworth leagues closed last night in the Buena Vista Street Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny. A praise service was held yesterday morning at 6:30 o'clock. Later in the morning Elmer L. Sidney spoke on "Loyal Piety," after which officers for the ensuing year were elected, as follows: President, David P. Duff; vice presidents, Louis F. Porter, the Rev. Howard E. Lloyd, Mrs. J. F. Nash, and Miss Adelaide Hamson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. C. Umstead; recording secretary, Miss Belle Jordan; treasurer, Joseph G. Parker; directors, C. M. Miller and John A. Rosenstedt; junior superintendent, Miss Sidney Boyd.

During the afternoon session a number of department conferences were held and the Rev. Dr. Arthur Staples of Beaver discussed "Elements of Success." During the evening session an address was delivered by the Rev. Dr. W. R. Wedderspoon and resolutions were passed pledging the Allegheny district of Epworth leagues to support by prayer and influence the Allegheny Federation of Churches in its stand against vice and unlawful systems in the city of Allegheny.

BOROUGH WINS FIRST ROUND.

Homestead Gets Injunction Against Railroad to Prevent Laying Tracks.

The borough of Homestead yesterday morning won the first round in their controversy with the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad, when they were granted a temporary injunction against the railroad, prohibiting them from laying a sidetrack across West street, to their adjoining property. The hearing in the case will be held Wednesday afternoon.

Thursday night and yesterday several policemen and two lines of hose were at the crossing to prevent the railroad company from stealing a march on the borough. Yesterday morning George Weller, the foreman of the gang of workmen, attempted to remove one of the curb stones along West street and was arrested. Later one of his men started digging in the street and he was also taken into custody. They put up forfeits of $50 each for their appearance at a hearing which will be held today.

MAKES THE KIDS SCOOT AND SEVERELY BURNS ONE

"Watch me make those kids scoot," said a boy whose name the police do not know, as he lighted a Roman candle and pointed it at a crowd of children at play in front of the postoffice at Glassport yesterday. Little Ammon Barnhart's clothing took fire from the first ball and the child went running through the streets with his clothing ablaze until he was stopped by Howard Pastre, who smothered the fire. The Barnhart boy was badly burned and Pastre's hands were burned also. The boy who fired the candle escaped.

Raid Alleged Gambling House.

The Union League club, a colored organization in Wylie avenue, was raided yesterday by County Detective Harry Merritt, John W. Reed and Frank Somerfeld. The detectives captured two poker tables, nearly a bushel of poker chips and about a half gross of decks of cards. The paraphernalia was taken in a wagon to the district attorney's office. On June 5 Robert G. Robinson, chief county detective, went before Alderman S. J. Todd and made an information charging Marshall Ruff, Kid Bates and A. H. Clay, officers of the club, with keeping a gambling house, selling liquor illegally and on Sunday. Three other men are also charged in the information but have not yet been arrested. Ruff, Bates and Clay were taken into custody and gave bail for their appearance at a hearing.

Will Observe Whitsunday.

Whitsunday will be observed tomorrow by churches of the Roman Catholic, Protestant Episcopal and Lutheran denominations. In Trinity Episcopal church, Sixth avenue, special services will be held tomorrow morning. In the afternoon Children's day will be observed and pupils from 4 schools are expected to attend. An address will be delivered by the Rev. Pascal Harrower of St. Barnabas will be observed under the auspices of St. Barnabas' Guild for Nurses.

To Preach Baccalaureate Sermon.

The baccalaureate sermon to the graduates of the Western University of Pennsylvania will be preached tomorrow morning in the First Presbyterian church, Sixth avenue, by Chancellor S. B. McCormick, D. D.

Many Immigrants Arrive.

Six trainloads of immigrants arrived in Pittsburgh over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad yesterday. Of this number three trainloads remained in this district. This is the greatest number of immigrants hauled by the Baltimore & Ohio in one day for several months.

Steel Worker Has Awful Fall.

Joseph Corpina of 524 Heisel street, foreman of the riggers in the Homestead Steel works, while at his work yesterday fell head foremost into a pit 12 feet deep and fractured his skull. He cannot recover.

Railroad Officials Go East.

Two private cars left the Union station last night. They were occupied by George L. Peck, general manager of the Pennsylvania lines, who goes to Atlantic City, and J. A. Brooks, who goes to Philadelphia.

FASTER MAILS ON NEW TRAIN

Postal Department Arranges to Use New York-Chicago Flyer to Improve Service.

SPEEDY TEST RUNS ARE MADE

The new 18-hour train on the Pennsylvania railroad will be used to improve the mail service between Chicago and New York, and at some intermediate points, including Pittsburgh. Supt. Bradley of the United States mail service made that announcement in New York yesterday. Commencing on June 11 mails will leave New York for Chicago on this train at 4 p. m. and arrive in Chicago at 8:55 a. m. on the following day. Returning the mail will leave Chicago at 2:45 p. m. and arrive in New York at 9:43 a. m. the following day.

The running of test speed trains to assure the probability of always running this new train on schedule time, was continued yesterday on the Pennsylvania railroad. A train with five Pennsylvania railroad coaches, equivalent to the weight of the new train, left Pittsburgh at noon and arrived at Altoona at 2:23 p. m., making the run of 117 miles in 146 minutes. The train was delayed near Latrobe six minutes, on account of a failure to scoop up water from the track tanks in good time. The average time was 52 miles an hour, the train making sometimes 60 miles an hour. This is considered splendid time on that steep grade and can be made right along by the new train.

Another test train left Altoona at 7:33 a. m. and arrived at Harrisburg at 9:41, making the run of 132 miles in 128 minutes. The average speed was more than 62 miles an hour. A third test train left Girard avenue, Philadelphia, at 10:16 a. m., and reached Harrisburg at 12:05, making the run of 100.7 miles in 109 minutes, an average of 56 miles an hour, the train being delayed 11 minutes by hot boxes. These two trains were also of the same weight as the new train between New York and Chicago.

A postal car service will be established on train 16, which leaves Chicago at 8 a. m., Cincinnati at 2:15 p. m., and arrives at New York at 8:03 a. m. the next day. The train is to have a Cleveland connection. It is expected that from 40,000 to 50,000 letters will be advanced from two to three hours in delivery.

A change in the postal service has been made which brings the mail from Boston into New York at 4:30 a. m., instead of 5:14 a. m., as at present. A new postal train will be established, leaving Boston at 7:45 p. m. and due at the Harlem river station, New York, at 1:55 a. m. Advantageous connection will be made for points west and south of New York.

WOMAN ELUDES THIEF.

Discovers Him in Her Room, but He Escapes With Watch When Help Arrives.

The residence of Mrs. Clara Powell, 206 Washington avenue, South Side, was entered yesterday afternoon and a gold watch valued at $35 taken. Mrs. Powell had entered her bedroom when she heard a rap at the front door. She paid no attention to it and a few minutes later the rapping was repeated at a rear door. Mrs. Powell did not expect any visitors during the afternoon and gave the matter no attention. She was about dozing off to sleep when she was again disturbed by the rapping at the front door. She then went to the window.

Standing at the door was a neatly dressed man. Not recognizing him she dropped the blind and went back to bed. Before long she heard stealthy footsteps coming up the front stairs. Mrs. Powell jumped out of bed and ran to the door. As she reached it the thief was just entering a back bedroom. He made a grab for Mrs. Powell, but she closed the door and locked it. She then rsan up in the attic and throwing open a window screamed for assistance. When help arrived the thief had made his escape with Mrs. Powell's gold watch.

DANGER OF ELECTROCUTION.

Officials Warn Patrolmen Not to Use Telephone Booths During Storms.

A general order was issued to the policemen of this city last night to use the utmost care in making calls from the patrol boxes during electric storms. Unless they have some important message to telephone to headquarters, the men are to refrain from using the boxes.

A year ago a policeman was electrocuted on the South Side while calling his station during a storm. The police officials want to prevent a similar accident and have warned the men to be careful.

During the storm Tuesday several policemen were shocked while making the calls, and complained to their superior officers. It is said the steel boxes and electrical apparatus within is most attractive to lightning flashes.

Get a Kodak and Forget All Cares.

A green hand with a kodak can have just as much fun as the expert—as a matter of fact, one needs very little knowledge of kodakery to operate the machine.

And what abundance of pleasure there is with a kodak in your hand. No one has any idea of the pleasant moments that can be spent kodaking until they have tried it, and then—well, the thing to know when to stop.

You often read of snappers being snapped up rather snappishly. If you attempt to take a picture of some person it depends altogether on the humor he or she is in.

And the best part about kodakery is that a good kodak costs such a little amount of money. There are the Eastman Brownies for $1.00 and $2.00, each taking a good-sized picture. Do you think you could spend either amount and have more pleasure? Then there are the regular $5.00 Cameras, splendid machines, none as good—Eastman makes them.

We sell all the Eastman Kodaks from the $1.00 kind up to the $75.00 ones.

At the Kodak Counter all requisites for amateur photography.

Things to Spend Your Time Out of Doors.

Count our East Basement as a place to turn to when in want of hot weather comforts, or the things for playing any of those pastime games to which we are accustomed. Here's a list of the requisites on sale down there, without prices, contenting ourselves with saying that prices are lower than such summer paraphernalia is sold for hereabouts.

Lawn Swings in variety, Hammocks in variety, Tents, big and little, Golf Requisites, Tennis Requisites, Croquet Requisites, Baseball Requisites, Bicycles, Tricycles, Velocipedes, Fishing Tackle—and you will find lots more things to pass the time out of doors besides what we have mentioned above.

Women's White Dresses, $5.00, Worth $7.50.

We have one hundred White Dimity Shirtwaist Suits made with pleated waist and skirt, the most becoming style shown this season. The material, fit and finish of these suits are above criticism.

Besides the above we have in stock, ready to put on, all manner of modes in white wash dresses for all manner of occasions—dresses of white lawn, dimity, dotted swiss, batiste, linen, Paris muslin, organdy.

Lawn Dresses from $5.00 to $25.00.
Swiss Dresses from $12.50 to $25.00.
Linen Dresses from $7.50 to $45.00.
Organdy Dresses from $18.00 to $45.00.
Dimity Dresses from $5.00 to $12.50.
Paris Muslin Dresses from $25.00 to $75.00.
Net Dresses from $19.00 to $75.00.
Hand-Embroidered Linen Dresses, $18.00 to $45.00.
French Mull Dresses from $25.00 to $85.00.

Pretty Wash Suits for Boys.

At all times the proper dress-up suit for the boy in hot weather is the white wash suit, but tomorrow, especially, the day appointed for children's services in all churches, the white wash suit will be particularly apropos.

As to wash suits in general, we have every good kind, from inexpensive to finest, and each and all are marked very close to what they cost us.

(No. 31.)

AN ORDINANCE relating to massaging and providing for the licensing thereof.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the select and common councils of the city of Allegheny, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That on and after the passage and approval of this ordinance, no person, firm or corporation shall be permitted to operate, conduct or carry on the business of massage, either as principal agent or operator, without first having obtained a license from the city of Allegheny. And before obtaining a license there shall be paid to the treasurer for the use of the city the sum of fifty ($50) dollars per annum for each such license issued. Said license shall be issued by the superintendent of the bureau of police upon application filed with him and approved by the director of the department of public safety. Said application shall set forth the name of the person, firm or corporation, their place or places of residence, schools they are graduates of; if not graduates, what, if any, experience or reference as to their competency; also reference as to their reputation and moral character; also, whether it is the purpose of the applicant or applicants to engage in the business as individual masseurs, or to conduct or carry on massage parlors and, if so, the location, the number of rooms, the name and number and sex of operators, and inform the superintendent of the bureau of police from time to time of the change of employes, giving name, residence and sex, and no operator shall massage a member of the opposite sex.

Sec. 2. That such person, firm or corporation, so applying for a license shall file in the office of the superintendent of the bureau of police, as aforesaid, at the time of making such application, a certificate, or certificates, signed by a reputable physician or physicians of the city, that they and all employes connected therewith whose names shall be enumerated therein are free from any form of infectious or contagious diseases.

Sec. 3. That any license issued by the director of the department of public safety and the superintendent of the bureau of police, shall not continue for a longer period than one (1) year from the date thereof, and may be renewed under the same terms and conditions as provided herein. All licenses issued under this ordinance shall expire on April 30 of each year.

Sec. 4. That any person, firm or corporation receiving a license for operating, carrying on or conducting massage parlors, as hereinbefore provided, shall not be permitted to transfer said license from the premises described in the application made therefor to any other premises without the approval of the director of the department of public safety and the superintendent of the bureau of police, as aforesaid, in writing, and they shall not employ or permit any operator or operators to massage except such as have complied with section 1 of this ordinance.

Sec. 5. That any person, firm or corporation who shall procure a license for carrying on massage parlors in the city of Allegheny, as aforesaid, shall keep said license in a conspicuous place on said premises, so that the same may be visible to all persons who may visit such premises, and all individual operators therein shall exhibit their license on demand.

Sec. 6. That all such premises for which license may be granted for massage parlors as aforesaid, shall at all times be accessible to any person authorized by the director of the department of public safety or the superintendent of the bureau of police.

Sec. 7. That any person, firm or corporation engaging in the business of operating massage parlors, or as an individual operator, as aforesaid, without first having obtained a license, as provided in this ordinance, or violating any of the provisions of this ordinance, shall be subject to a penalty of not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars for each and every offense, and subject to revocation of license without renewal; and said penalties recoverable before the mayor or any police magistrate of this city as debts of like amount are recoverable, and the mayor and said police magistrates are hereby authorized and empowered to impose and collect the same, and in default of payment thereof shall be subject to imprisonment in the Allegheny county jail or workhouse for a period not exceeding thirty (30) days.

Sec. 8. That so much of any ordinance as may conflict with or be supplied by the foregoing be and the same is hereby repealed.

Ordained and enacted into a law in councils this 29th day of May, A. D. 1905.

AN ORDINANCE—Providing for the use and operation of a hook and ladder truck by each of companies 10 and 12, in the bureau of fire, department of public safety, and providing for the payment of the cost thereof.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the select and common councils of the city of Allegheny, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That the director of the department of public safety is hereby instructed to place a hook and ladder truck in use and operation by each of companies 10 and 12 in the bureau of fire, department of public safety, and for said purpose to purchase and keep a team of two horses with each of said companies; and also in pursuance of the requirements of the general ordinance relating to the bureau of fire to employ five men for each company to operate said truck.

Sec. 2. The cost of said horses shall be paid out of appropriation No. 41, contingent fund, and the salaries of the men employed as aforesaid shall for the current fiscal year be paid out of said appropriation No. 41, contingent fund, and thereafter out of item No. 1, appropriation No. 5, bureau of fire, department of public safety.

Sec. 3. That so much of any ordinance as may conflict with or be supplied by the foregoing, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Indorsing Judge Stewart.

It is highly gratifying to have the Democratic leaders commend the appointment of Judge John Stewart to the supreme court bench and suggest his indorsement by the Democratic party for election. No higher testimonial could be given to the ability and character of the Franklin county jurist, or to the good judgment of Gov. Pennypacker in selecting him. Among those who have given this cordial indorsement is Col. James M. Guffey, the unquestioned leader of the state Democracy and member of the Democratic national committee. It has been a long time since any political act in this state received as wide and general approval as this appointment.

The League's Opportunity.

The Voters' Civic league has now the opportunity it has sought in its attack upon the Grant boulevard franchise. The demand for a bill of particulars which was granted in the common pleas court when the case was pending there was refused by Judge Buffington, thus giving the league proceedings a more favorable situation than if they had been continued in the common pleas court. It is obvious that if the league had disclosed the names of the councilmen whose integrity they intend to assail, their ability to prove their charges might have been impaired, but they have escaped this difficulty by obtaining federal jurisdiction through an action in the name of a citizen of another state who owns property on the boulevard.

The difference here shown between state and federal jurisprudence is too marked not to attract attention, but it not infrequently happens, and yet with scrupulous regard for the law in both cases, for the state courts naturally take their law from state precedent while the federal courts have wider scope. Hence, as Judge Brannon of West Virginia, in his book on the Fourteenth amendment, remarks, "Everybody who is in stress these days is appealing to the federal courts for protection."

It will be gratifying to the community that the Voters' Civic league is now in a position to go ahead with its case. Let the lid be taken off, and if there is any rottenness within let it be exposed. There is a moral certainty that the free gift of the enormously valuable Grant boulevard franchise was a corrupt transaction, but a moral certainty is not legal proof, and the community will look to the proceedings in this case for enlightenment as to the facts.

Two Needed Improvements.

It is announced the proposition to issue bonds for the removal of the hump will be submitted to voters at a special election to be held July 18. That date has been put in the ordinance to be considered at the next meeting of councils. It is stated on the same authority there will be no question submitted on the issue of bonds for the purchase of the South Side water plant. The contract with the Monongahela Company will be allowed to expire before anything is done because the price asked is too high.

After the contract expires, then what? A new contract? Better terms to the water company? Removal of the stipulation that it must serve its patrons at city rates? A proposition to furnish it with filtered water to be sold to its customers at the same old price? These questions are pertinent. The South Side was asked to vote for filtration on the promise it would share equally with all other parts of the city in the benefits. Is that hope to be deferred until it makes the South Side heart sick and the people ill, also? Or how is it to be redeemed?

For 20 years the city has fattened the treasury of the South Side water company by selling its own water to consumers at unjustifiably high rates. On that basis the water company asks a high price for its property. The city will not pay the price or begin condemnation proceedings, but will let the contract expire. Then the South Side can make the best terms it is able with the water company. Yet the South Side will be asked to vote bonds and contribute to the expense of removing the hump from Fifth avenue. The improvement is desirable, but the terms are hardly fair.

The Equitable Settlement.

From the first The Gazette has pointed out that there could be no satisfactory settlement of the Equitable troubles short of the retirement of Mr. Hyde and the abolition of the control over the assets of the society which he has held through his stock ownership. Without that it would have been vain to have expected to restore public confidence by the election of a new head to the society. The logic of events has forced this conclusion both upon the directors and Mr. Hyde himself, and the correct remedy has at last been applied.

Paul Morton, secretary of the navy, has been unanimously elected chairman of the board of directors on condition that he shall have a free hand both as to measures and men. That this condition is real is evidenced by the fact that the resignations of the president and vice presidents of the society were at once placed in his hands. Moreover, in addition to stepping down and out Mr. Hyde has agreed to dispose of a majority of his stock to Thomas F. Ryan, representing the policy-holders.

It is a curious turn of affairs for Mr. Morton, who appears to have a streak of Roosevelt luck. While the insurance business is new to him, he brings to it the executive force which the situation demands, and no one will doubt that the affairs of the society will receive a thorough cleansing. Despite the scandals which have been revealed, the financial condition of the society is solid and the ultimate effect of the ordeal through which it has passed will be to make it stronger than ever before. Although in the clean sweep that has taken place President Alexander goes out, he will carry with him the esteem of the policy-holders and the respect of the public for his courage and self-sacrifice in forcing the exposure of the evils of the Hyde regime when he realized his inability to correct them. A debt of gratitude is also due the Frick committee for going to the bottom and dragging out the facts without fear or favor. After that exhibit it was impossible for the Hyde regime to maintain itself.

A Fresh Scandal.

Suspension of the superintendent of Pittsburgh police, pending investigation of serious charges made by Amos Dachroth of Allegheny comes as a distinct shock. The superintendent denies the charges in toto, and his superiors refuse to discuss the matter until it has been brought before the police trial board next Wednesday. Meantime citizens can only speculate and wonder. The city must suffer this fresh smirch upon its reputation. Scandals have followed each other in rapid succession throughout the present administration. Some have terminated one way, some another, but the turmoil never ceases. It is not likely it will ever cease until the city has a new and different administration. Meanwhile, the public will have to practice patience under affliction and be ready to turn out on election day.

Kentucky Arraigned.

It would probably be a relief to the state authorities of Kentucky if the United States courts would assume jurisdiction of the Powers case, as it has become the scandal of Kentucky jurisprudence. The national publicity which has been given to the case has made it a matter of general knowledge that the theory of Caleb Powers' guilt was manufactured for political purposes. He has been held prisoner for five years, and has yet to receive a fair trial, as that would mean prompt acquittal.

Powers has been three times convicted by packed juries, and the violation of his constitutional right to the equal protection of the laws has been so glaring that the last time the verdict was set aside by the court of appeals pointed attention was called to this phase of the case in the opinion filed by Judge Henry Barker, who is a Democrat in his party affiliations. Speaking of the way in which the jury which tried Powers had been made up, he said:

"It is clear that the trial judge was of opinion that it was not an offense against the Fourteenth amendment, or a denial of the equal protection of the laws to the defendant, to exclude Republicans from the jury solely because they were Republicans, provided the selected Democrats were possessed of the statutory qualifications required for jury service."

In opposition he urged that the defendant was entitled to the protection of the Fourteenth amendment, and that refusal to extend it "will furnish ground for a reversal of this court by the supreme court of the United States." The majority of the court, while ordering a new trial, decided that there was no federal question in the case. This point is now raised on petition to the United States circuit court for the eastern district of Kentucky, setting forth that the workings of the state courts violates the Fourteenth amendment, which prohibits any state from depriving any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law. In effect, Kentucky jurisprudence is arraigned before the judicial authority of the nation, and the decision may attain Constitutional importance as marking a new development in national jurisprudence for the guardianship of personal rights. The adoption of the Fourteenth amendment was prompted by consideration for the colored race, but Senator Sumner appears to have been right in his prediction that it would become the great charter of all American citizenship.

The Business Situation.

If one were to accept this week's stock market as an indication of current conditions, the conclusion would be that the latter are far from satisfactory, because the dealings on the stock exchange were smaller than for any previous week this year. On the other hand, if loans and discounts, bank clearings and railroad earnings were accepted as a reflex of trade, then the situation would appear entirely different. Loans and discounts of the banks and trust companies of Pittsburgh, for instance, are $11,000,000 larger today than at the corresponding date a year ago, and bank clearings are averaging about $2,000,000 a day larger than last year. Railroad gross earnings all over the country show increases, and except in the cruder forms of iron and steel the volume of tonnage is at the maximum.

There is a logical explanation for this apparent conflict between the gauges usually consulted in reading current trade conditions and prospects. The comparative stagnation in the stock market represents an equilibrium in opinion between buyers and sellers of securities, and professional speculators who make it their business to sound public sentiment have vainly endeavored during the week to disturb this equilibrium, and give the market a decided trend. The bona fide investor who buys and holds securities for the return on the investment is unconsciously influenced by the speculator, who buys or sells with the sole object of making a quick turn in the market. For the moment the speculator is puzzled to determine whether the effects of the Equitable Life revelations and prospective railroad rate legislation will be outweighed by bountiful crops. He is not sure whether the slight increase in unsold stocks of pig iron which followed the unprecedented production of last month marked the turn in the iron market, or whether demand will be greater than ever as soon as consumers feel assured that the agricultural outlook is safe. Financial economists as well as stock market operators are not agreed as to the effects of a declaration of peace between Russia and Japan. It may be followed by new issues of securities by both nations, which will come into competition with securities already in the market. It may be followed by an increased burden of taxation to make good the wastes of war. This in turn may stimulate the production of commodities exported from Russia and Japan, and curtail the consumption of commodities imported by those countries, because the heavier the burden of taxation the lighter the buying power of consumers.

All of these considerations have a bearing upon the stock market, and in some slight degree have an effect upon general trade. The latter, however, continues to display a seasonable degree of activity, and if today's government crop report comes up to expectation, the influence will be in the direction of greater financial and commercial activity.

While the Dunn law, providing for the filing of information relative to taxable evidences of indebtedness, is proper in its purpose, the attorney general decides it is inoperative for the present because the legislature neglected to make an appropriation to carry it into effect. It is aimed at the dodgers of personal property tax and would probably produce revenue more than sufficient to pay costs of enforcement, but specific appropriation must be made for expenditure of state funds.

Of course, there are some people that even a usual sense of the proprieties of life would never muzzle.

Wisconsin has adopted a law requiring all railroads to file a report with the state railroad commissioners detailing the passes, mileage, etc., outstanding and in force. This is apparently another line in the program of Gov. LaFollette for dealing with the corporations and will give some of them a bad hour or two. It is proper, however, for the railroad commissioners to have this information and they will probably get it.

The president again emphasizes his preference for the simple life by becoming a Virginia land owner.

Another unsatisfactory test of street car fenders was made yesterday, resulting in the demolition of the "dummies" used for the experiment. Mayor Hays and Director Moore did not approve any of the 11 types, but the director properly insists that something must be done by the company to comply with the law.

These be strenuous days for the local police force. Dodging arrest is quite as exciting as arresting dodgers.

Further speed tests on the Pennsylvania railroad east of Pittsburgh have resulted in cutting under the schedule for the new 18-hour trains by wide margins. There should be little difficulty in maintaining 51 miles an hour in practice where 62 miles an hour are made experimentally under working conditions.

The American eagle is beginning to fluff its feathers and hold its breath preparatory to its usual Fourth of July scream.

As if the Russian and Japanese names were not enough, the tired chronicler of news has now to wrestle with the jaw-cracking mixtures that grow in Norway and Swenden.

Henry James says we are very rude in our speech. Evidently Henry has heard "Uncle Joe" Cannon talking on one of his busy days.

If ex-President Cleveland be wise he will not extend his duck hunting journeys to the neighborhood of Atlantic City while the women's club is in session there.

It is comforting to know that you can get out of New York and Chicago just as fast as you get into them by the new 18-hour train.

Chicago doesn't understand why a resident of that city should want to go to New York faster than the present means of travel afford.

Let the Russo-Jap contenders
And the Norway scrappers jaw,
But for word-war that's artistic
Give us "Mugsy" S. McGraw.

The New York theatrical manager who went to jail for the rest of his associates in a test case would doubtless demur at being made a permanent proxy.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS

By ERASMUS WILSON.

'Twas a jolly old pedagogue, long ago,
Tall and slender, sallow and dry.
His form was bent, and his gait was slow;
His long, thin hair was as white as snow.
But a wonderful twinkle shone in his eye;
And he sang every night as he went to bed,—
"Let us be happy down here below;
The living should live, though the dead be dead,"
Said the jolly old pedagogue long ago.
—George Arnold.

You probably knew him, for he was of the American type, pure and simple.

If you attended school in the old log school house you surely knew him, for he was the high priest in charge. And when the new frame school house bobbed up it was found to be about his size.

But as the people grew in wealth and pride, they began to build finer houses, some of brick, some of stone and some of smoothly planed boards, and some were painted red, some white and some never knew paint at all.

The jolly old pedagogue was ready and willing and capable, but the people seemed to think they should have something finer and more highly polished, to correspond with the fine homes they had built.

So the jolly old pedagogue was compelled to give way to a different style of pedagogue.

But behold, all that is old shall become new, if not in its present state of existence, then in some other.

The old-time pedagogue was a product of his time, and he filled his place as acceptably and as well as the modern teacher fills his place today. He had a very different sort of material to deal with than that found in the schools of today. It was more rugged and more difficult to shape and polish. But he did well, quite well, considering the material furnished ready to his hand, and the tools with which he worked.

In those days the country was not so cursed with idleness as it is now. The boys and girls who sat under the rod and rule of the jolly old pedagogue were busy from before sunrise in the morning until after sundown in the evening. They had so very little idle time on their hands that the finder of mischief had no chance to get his work in.

This some jolly old pedagogue discovered and polished off a good many great men. He didn't carry them through higher mathematics and the classics, but he made learning attractive, and so clearly pointed out the way of true knowledge that everyone who had a taste for it could find it and get it for his own.

Great men, you know, are usually their own architects. While yet boys they need good teachers, or rather, masters, to set them in the right way and encourage them to perseverance. If not thus encouraged boys very rarely reach the level of greatness.

Bigness is not greatness. Greatness of mind and heart doesn't seem to depend on bigness of head.

There is such a thing as big-head, or bigness of head, but it is not greatness. In fact, the bigger the head the smaller the man.

You may have noticed that the trend of the present times is to bigness rather than to greatness. Comfortable houses are torn down to make room for bigger houses and well-established business firms are going into bigger ones.

However, we may take a turn for the better before long and grow in greatness until we become as great as we are big.

Anyhow, we are stepping along quite briskly and seem to be in keeping in the right track. But, no matter how well we get along, nor how confident we may be of becoming greater in every way than any other people that ever lived on the earth, there is always danger of an epidemic of big-head. There is more or less of this all the time, but it is not always malignant or epidemic. It is when it is both epidemic and malignant that the danger is really great.

The big fortunes that are being built up in this country are likely to develop quite a lot of big-head, and some pig-head, and there are really good reasons for fearing these may become epidemic, but hardly in the present generation.

The dictionary, which used to be quite a modest, unassuming book, has grown to be about the biggest book there is, and we are told that it is likely to keep right on growing for years and years.

You may remember when Webster's dictionary advertised the fact, and boasted that it contained 10,000 words, which was ever so many more than either Johnson's or Walker's contained. The latest dictionaries claim to give and define more than 30,000 words.

Each decade seems to demand a new and enlarged dictionary. When or where this growth will stop no one can tell. Of course no writer or speaker pretends to use all of these, nor to be able to use them. Indeed, the vocabulary of the very best writers and speakers consist of considerably less than 10,000 words.

John Fisk, a master of English, and a clear, forceful writer, said that with a vocabulary of less than 1,000 words one could express himself plainly enough on almost any subject to be clearly understood, and he advised the use of short, simple words, because of their being more forceful than compound words.

The Rev. Joseph Addison Alexander, who died in 1860, wrote two stanzas of verse in which he illustrated the power of short words. In them he used only monosyllables, and of these all but about a score are Anglo-Saxon. Following are the stanzas:

THE POWER OF SHORT WORDS.

Think not that strength lies in the big, round word,
Or that the brief and plain must needs be weak.
To whom can this be true who once has heard
The cry for help, the tongue that all men speak
When want or woe or fear is in the throat,
So that each word gasped out is like a shriek.
Pressed from the sore heart on a strange, wild note,
Sung by some fay or fiend? there is a strength
Which dies if stretched too far or spun too fine,
Which has more height than breadth, more depth than length.
Let this force of speech and thought be mine,
And he that will may talk the sleek, fat phrase
Which glows or burns not, though it gleam and shine;
Light but not heat—a flash, but not a blaze.

Not mere strength is it that the short word boasts;
It serves of more than fight or storm to tell—
The roar of waves that clash on rock-bound coasts,
The crash of tall trees when the wild winds swell,
The roar of guns, the groans of men that die
On blood-stained fields. It has a voice as well
For them that far off on their sick-beds lie,
For them that weep, for them that mourn the dead;
For them that laugh, and dance, and clap the hand,
To Joy's quick step as well as Grief's slow tread,
The sweet, plain words we learn at first keep time;
And though the theme be sad or gay or grand,
With each, with all, these may be made to chime,
In thought or speech or song, in prose or rhyme.
—Joseph Addison Alexander.

TALKED OF IN GOTHAM

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 9.—In every synagogue or temple in New York thousands are celebrating today the Hebrew feast of Shebouth. The observance will continue throughout tomorrow. It is called the feast of weeks (Shebouth being derived from the Hebrew word "Shivoh," which means seven), because it occurs after seven weeks have been solemnly numbered from Passover. The historic feature of the festival is the celebration of the giving of the Ten Commandments, which Israel received on Mount Sinai at this season. For this reason it has been chosen as the most fitting season for confirmation. The exercises in the various temples—for it is only the reform Jews who have adopted this ceremony—are very interesting and impressive. Boys and girls of 13 and over, after having been under stated religious training for six or eight months as particular preparation for the ceremony, are publicly catechised on the character and extent of their religious knowledge, and, having assumed the vows which binds them to their ancestral faith, are confirmed and admitted to all the rights and privileges of the church.

All the temples are decorated with flowers in honor of the festival, and the confirmants are made the recipients of congratulations and gifts. The entire ceremony is repudiated by orthodox Hebrews, who say it is too much a matter of show, of elegant dress and costly presents, while the shaping of intellectual and religious life in concord with the Jewish standards and traditional laws is neglected.

Belmont Has Enemies in Bronx.

August Belmont with his scheme for the third tracking of the elevated railroad entering into the borough of the Bronx, as far as One Hundred and Fifty-fourth street, has met with general disapproval by the residents of the North side. The third tracking of the Third avenue railroad met with general disfavor among all the organizations in the Bronx and the property owners and residents in that section because they did not believe Mr. Belmont was sincere in his attitude toward the Bronx borough. They still argue that Mr. Belmont has cajoled them by deferring the long-promised opening of the subway under the Harlem river through One Hundred and Forty-ninth street. As far back as January pledges and promises were made that this line would be opened on the 15th of the month and in each succeeding month similar promises have been made. The latest promise for this opening is June 15 and no one in the Bronx believes this promise will be kept.

Wanted—Names for New Fawns.

Director Smith proudly declares the pair of Mexican spotted fawns that have been born in the Central park menagerie are very fine specimens and that they will grow into as handsome deer as are to be found in any park in the country. They cannot stand up yet, but they are of perfect form and finely developed. One of the pair, a male, is a very handsome fellow, and visitors to the menagerie are already making kind inquiries after his health and sending in suggestions of a name for him. From all five boroughs come letters from would-be sponsors. Thus far Togo, Hyde, Dewey and Kaiser predominate among the suggestions offered.

City to Purchase Theater.

After a resolution offered by Controller Grout, the board of estimate and apportionment today decided to take steps to purchase the Montauk theater property in Brooklyn for the city. Not that the city is going into municipal ownership of playhouses, but in order to provide for the widening of Flatbush avenue at its junction with Fulton street. Many prominent politicians, it is said, are interested in the Montauk theater, among them being Senator McCarren and former Senator Reynolds. The company owning it has leased it for many years to the present management, and has obtained a large amount of money in rentals. Now, if the city buys it for $800,000, the owners will receive much more than its assessed value. The property is down on the assessment books for $300,000, including the real estate, which is valued at $120,000.

Last of the Old Sage Home.

Plans have been filed for remodeling into a five-story and basement business building the old-fashioned four-story and basement dwelling at No. 506 Fifth avenue owned by Elbridge T. Gerry and for many years the home of Russell Sage. A rear extension is to be added, a passenger elevator installed and rear fire escapes erected. The improvements, which are to be made for Ryman & Oppenheim as lessees, are to cost $15,000.

Yellow Fever Victim Is Dead.

Frank O'Leary of Buffalo died in the government hospital on Swinburne island today of yellow fever. He fell ill on board the steamship Seguranca when on the way from Colon to this city and was transferred to the hospital upon the steamer's arrival. At that time the case was regarded as only "suspicious." The Seguranca brought almost 150 passengers, many of whom had resigned positions on the Panama canal because, they said, of unsanitary conditions on the isthmus.

Telephone Directory Grows.

Employes of the New York Telephone Company began today to move 500 tons of paper, in blocks of two pounds, which means that the quarterly telephone directory has come from the press and is being distributed, while the old books are being collected. The directory contains over 200,000 names, about 125,000 of which are of subscribers in Manhattan and the Bronx. This is a net gain of 15,000 within the last three months. The new directory represents 51 carloads of paper. After the books were printed, bound and packed, it required 20 freight cars to bring them from Philadelphia to New York.

No Sailors in Russia.

Writing from Russia many years ago, Richard Cobden said: "People confound in their minds the defensive and the aggressive power of Russia. She is invulnerable against foreign attack by land, because no large army can be concentrated within her borders (unless it be in Moscow or St. Petersburg), for want of accumulated store of food, etc. * * * She has, it is true, a large force of ships of war, but they are manned by serfs taken from the villages of the interior, who are undeserving the name of sailors, and it is pretty certain they would never venture into an engagement with an English or American fleet, and if they did it is quite certain they would be taken or destroyed."

WOMEN IN COLLEGES

How They Excel Men in Scholarship.

"Coeducation is resulting in the intellectual humiliation of men," says the Chicago Record-Herald. "In the classrooms of almost every college and university where the joint instruction of both sexes is a permanent feature, the feminine students have been excelling their masculine rivals, and at the commencement day ceremonies which are now close at hand, the sweet girl graduate will practically monopolize the honors in scholarship.

"Announcements of senior class gradings and honors have not yet been made at the University of Chicago, but from the events of the past masses of statistics have been prepared which show the superiority of women in the unprofessional undergraduate departments. A few of them, collected two years ago at the university's tenth anniversary, are as follows: Out of 614 men who had received the bachelor's degree, 145 received honors; out of 550 women, 189. Also number 44 men and 73 women received special honors.

"At Northwestern University the rating of the members of the present graduating class during the past year is available. Work is graded at this institution by the letters A, B, C. There are 56 women and 66 men in the group, yet the women have scored 2,339 hours of "A" work and the men only 1,502. Each woman has, therefore, averaged 42.12 hours of "A" work, and each man but 24.12. Fourteen women and 10 men were elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa.

Where The Men Scored.

The University of Wisconsin is the single exception to the rule. Of the 50 seniors highest in standing in the college of letters and science, 66 per cent were men. Men predominated in the Phi Beta Kappa elections by the same percentage.

"At Cornell University 12 students were elected to Phi Beta Kappa, seven women and six men—a fact which seems ominous in view of the large majority of the masculine element.

"Phi Beta Kappa results at the University of Minnesota prove that the women have won four times as many elections, the figures being twelve and three. Measured by the Phi Beta Kappa nominations, which are often the only definite figures obtainable, the women of Boston University are also far in advance of the men in their intellectual tasks. The society admits annually one-fifth of the senior class, with the highest rankings. In 1900 sixteen girls were accepted and only one man; in 1904 sixteen girls and three men, and this year seventeen girls and three men.

Women Superior in Scholarship.

"From Leland Stanford Jr. University, at Palo Alto, Cal., no figures have been received, but the following statement by a member of the faculty is just as valuable. He says: 'On the average the women of the liberal arts department are superior to the men in their scholarship. This is not only true of the recently graduated senior class, but of all classes which have graduated from the department. It is, however, the opinion of the faculty that three or four men in each class are superior to any of the women, but that on the average the men fall far below the women.'

"Seventeen women and 41 men are about to be graduated from the University of Nebraska, and of this class 17 women and five men have the key of Phi Beta Kappa. Last year the same test resulted even more favorably for the women. At the State University of Iowa, where more than 60 per cent of the graduating class are men, two-thirds of the Phi Beta Kappa elections were awarded to women. But in the opinion of Dean Amos N. Currier of the College of Liberal Arts, it is almost impossible to compare the intellectual achievements of the two sexes under the present system of free electives.

Men on a Lower Level.

"Washington University, St. Louis, Mo., will graduate twenty men and nine women. According to Chancellor W. S. Chaplin, the average standing of the women has been 83¾ per cent, and of the men 77¼ per cent. Women predominated in the Phi Beta Kappa elections at the University of Kansas, at Lawrence, in the proportion of two to 1. This has been held true for a number of years. The University of Texas, at Austin, has interesting statistics to report. Out of 85 members of the graduating classes 45 are men and 42 women. Of this number five of the former sex are rated first-class and nine of the latter.

"The University of Indiana contributes no definite data, but Dean Hoffman of that institution announces it to be his personal impression that there are fewer bad students among the women than the men. The five class leaders, however, are men. At Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa, the women's scholarship standing for the year has excelled that of the men. From the University of Michigan, which should contribute valuable statistics upon this point, there comes only an opinion from President Angell, who says:

"'We have no system of distinct class markings at the University of Michigan, such as is in vogue in some other institutions. But I can state it as a fact that in comparative scholarship standing the young women are the equals of the young men in each class in the university.'"

Sunday isn't Sunday without

THE SUNDAY GAZETTE

Tomorrow another host of interesting features will regale readers with all that is novel, instructive, entertaining in every corner of the world. A little list of a few of the many good things will make you wish to be a partaker of them. There is Secretary James Wilson's talk on

FARMING.

He tells of the great profits to be made in tilling the soil, of the mistakes men make in flocking to the city's crowded marts. The secretary of agriculture is a long-headed man, and this article, crammed with facts and figures, shows the length of his head.

Then there is a most interesting article for those who have witnessed performances of the drama. This article tells all about the queer dramas played by Yiddish Duses in New York—about Hamlet as the son of a rabbi and Shylock from the Jewish viewpoint.

Then there is a fascinating description of the latest government building to rise in Washington, a magnificent temple of the where Uncle Sam will install his 6,000,000 curiosities. This structure, of which illustrations will appear in tomorrow's Gazette, will have a floor space of 10 acres and will cost $4,000,000.

John Kendrick Bangs, best known of American humorists, the author of 40 funny books, will continue the laughable adventures of Jimmieboy in TRUSTLAND.

Tomorrow Jimmieboy will interview the Iron Pig, and a gale of merriment will follow their brilliant repartee.

The stories of that prince of raconteurs, who is known under the pen name of are among the good things of modern fiction. Another of them will appear tomorrow, and the title, "According to Our Lights," indicates its scope and fascination.

The Home Journal section will contain particulars of a new feature of interest to all housekeepers. Commencing with June 25 there will be inaugurated the which will take the place of the popular Housewives' Reciprocity Bureau. By this means opportunity is given to every hausfrau, wise with the wisdom of books or with the teaching of years, to impart to her sisters what she considers most helpful in the administration of the home. Full particulars may be found in the Home Journal section.

Those who contemplate a vacation tour to Europe will be edified and amused by Dr. Crofut's letter from where this entertaining correspondent had some readable adventures with an earthquake and the British language.

If you are interested in Pennsylvania history, in memories of old-time politics, you should not miss the article by on "When Geary Was Governor." This series of reminiscential articles has never been surpassed in its chatty side-lights upon state history during the most trying epoch of our existence.

Lovers of sport will be eager to read about the new Chinese game that has fascinated Paris. It is called and will rival golf and tennis in popularity. A description of this novel diversion, with pictures, illustrating how to play it, is here published for the first time.

The new trial of the man who has been in prison five years for a crime he knew nothing of, the American Dreyfus, will lend exceptional timeliness to "My Own Story," by being some of the most startling chapters from the newly-issued book of the man who is charged with the murder of Goebel.

Many other features of equal interest will mark this number of The Sunday Gazette. Elbert Hubbard's "Little Sermons," George Seibel on "Books and Bookmen," Charles M. Bregg on "Plays and Players," Erasmus Wilson, "The Quiet Observer," the "Little Poems of Greater Pittsburgh," John L. Sullivan's "Jolts From John L.," the diverting exploits of Buster Brown, Buddy Tucker, Foxy Grandpa, Sammy Sneeze, Mister Coon and Sam, and many, many more, make it certain that whether the sun is shining or clouds darken the sky, tomorrow will be as bright as ever in

LEAVES WABASH SERVICE TODAY

J. W. Patterson, Sr., Refuses to Remain Longer With the Road He Built.

SUCCESSOR NOT YET NAMED

This will be the last day James W. Patterson, Sr., will spend in the service of the Wabash interests. In a conversation yesterday with First Vice President B. A. Worthington of the Wabash Pittsburgh Terminal, he announced he would not remain longer than today. He told Mr. Worthington that any time the new officials of the Wabash desired information which he had, he would be glad to give it to them.

"I have decided upon this step for a number of reasons," said Mr. Patterson yesterday. "My relations with Joseph Ramsey, Jr., until recently the head of the Wabash system, were such as to make the change of officers affect my relations with the road. Furthermore, I do not believe that I should stand in the way of the new officials choosing their own men to fill the positions of executive responsibility.

"Mr. Worthington and I have talked the matter over. He urged me to remain, but I will not do so. We are agreed upon the right measures to make the Wabash Pittsburgh extension a paying investment."

Mr. Patterson said he proposes first of all to secure a good rest, something he has had no opportunity to enjoy for over four years. He has been invited to join Mr. Ramsey on the latter's trip to Europe, but does not expect to accept the invitation.

The resignation of Mr. Patterson is the most important since Mr. Ramsey left the road. These two men shared between them the labor of putting the Wabash into Pittsburgh, every stroke of the work being done under their personal direction. To Mr. Patterson fell not only his share of planning the engineering and diplomatic feats which the road accomplished, but of carrying out the plans when formed. The great burden of the detail of construction was entirely upon his shoulders, and with it came the active supervision of real estate operations, amounting to several million dollars, the work with councils of Pittsburgh, the litigation of every kind, the arrangements for bridge construction, and the absolute disposal of over $20,000,000. Except during the occasional visits of Mr. Ramsey in the past four years, he has had charge of everything pertaining to the Wabash extension, and for two years was president of the road.

In addition to his general duties in charge of all the work outlined above, Mr. Patterson has been the representative of the Wabash extension to meet the public on many other plans.

BIGELOW HAS BILL FOR GREATER SECOND AVENUE

It Is to Be Widened from Tenth Street Bridge to Ross Street, and Tracks Are to Be Raised.

A greater Second avenue is the object of an ordinance which Director Bigelow said yesterday would be introduced in councils on Monday, providing for the widening of the avenue from the South Tenth street bridge to Ross street, so as to give the thoroughfare a uniform width of 70 feet.

An ordinance was introduced at the last meeting of councils to repeal the original ordinance for the widening of Second avenue, but a similar repealer was indefinitely postponed by councils last October and the new repealer will not be considered. The original ordinance for the widening of Second avenue extended the improvement only from South Tenth street bridge to Try street, on which are located the tracks of the Panhandle railroad.

A feature of the new ordinance will be the raising of the Panhandle tracks at Try street six feet and the lowering of the street grade eight feet, giving a total clearance of 14 feet between the tracks and the street. Although councils failed to repeal the former widening the improvement under that ordinance will not be carried out because the city and the property owners are opposed to it, resulting from the unsatisfactory award made by the board of viewers.

Second avenue, between Try and Ross streets, is only 40 feet wide, and it is proposed to widen the avenue at that point by taking 30 feet from the north side on which the offices and warehouse of Jones & Laughlin are located.

WANTS AID IN ENFORCING NEW CHILD LABOR LAW

State Factory Inspector Addresses Letter to Mayors of Pittsburgh and Allegheny.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, June 9.—State Factory Inspector Delaney today addressed personal letters to the mayors of Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Allegheny and Scranton asking them to co-operate with the department in enforcing the new child labor law.

Inspector Delaney calls attention to the number of urchins under 14 years of age who sell newspapers in the streets frequently far into the night. Boys who purchase papers and sell them cannot be reached under the law for they are "merchants," legally; but those who are in the employ of an office or agency can be reached.

The new law also touches a number of trades not reached under the old law, youngsters who sell ice cream, etc., in the streets must be over 14 years of age; heretofore they have been less than that in many instances. All messenger boys, employes in bootblack establishments, etc., must also be 14 or over.

TO DIRECT EXPENDITURE OF $100,000,000 A YEAR

NEW YORK, June 9.—Mayor McClellan today appointed three men who will compose New York's city water board and who will direct the expenditure of more than $100,000,000 on the city's water supply system. They are J. Edward Simmons, representing the chamber of commerce; Charles A. Shaw, representing the board of fire underwriters, and Charles N. Chadwick, representing the brokers, merchants and manufacturers' associations. The salary will be $12,000 a year and the posts are practically of life tenure.

SELLS SEAT ON 'CHANGE TO PITTSBURGH MAN

NEW YORK, June 9.—(Special.)—Charles L. Cammann, head of the firm of Cammann & Co., at 45 Broadway, posted his membership for transfer on the stock exchange today to J. H. Childs of Pittsburgh. Mr. Cammann is one of the old-timers of the New York stock exchange, being sixth on the list of the members. He joined the exchange August 16, 1869. It is understood the seat was sold for $72,500.

Son-in-Law Accused of Murder.

NEWARK, O., June 9.—Levy Bezard was arrested at his house on the Granville road today and brought to jail here. He is charged with the murder of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Francis Wertz, on June 1. The woman was found beaten to death. The arrest was made on information given by the 14-year-old granddaughter of the murdered woman.

FRAUD AND GRAFT AT LEAGUE ISLAND

Government Has Been Robbed by Substitution of Oleomargarine, Served to Jackies.

PRESIDENT HAS BEEN NOTIFIED

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau
Press Building.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 9.

Fraud and graft, of a nature serious enough to be presented directly to President Roosevelt and Secretary of the Navy Morton, have been discovered at League Island navy yard. Oleomargarine has been served to the sailors and marines at the navy yard for several weeks at least, and perhaps much longer. The government has been robbed of many hundreds of dollars, and may be many thousands.

A grocer named Thomas Brady has been selling the imitation butter to the yard for 25 cents a pound.

All this developed in a sensational report sent out tonight by Dr. Warren, head of the state dairy and food commission. His agents discovered the fraud, and he, with his attorney, A. H. Woodward, visited the president and Secretary Morton yesterday and laid the matter before them. They told the president also that the League Island officers had refused to aid the commissioner's efforts to bring the illicit grocer to justice.

A thorough investigation was ordered by the federal officers. It will begin at once. Astounding revelations are expected.

According to Dr. Warren's report, the first clue that everything was not all right with League Island's food supply came to him about the middle of May. On May 17 Dr. Warren sent an agent, H. P. Cassidy, down to League Island to investigate. Cassidy came back with a report that amply certified the suspicion.

Dr. Warren then pursued his investigation, procuring samples of the "fake" butter from the marine barracks, the jackies' camp, the training ship Lancaster, cruisers Panther and Scorpion and battleship Massachusetts.

FUNDS FOR HOSPITALS.

Sum of $6,700 Is Contributed for Free Patients—Money Received from Schools.

The sum of $6,700 was distributed yesterday among the associated hospitals of the city by the Hospital Saturday and Sunday association. The money was distributed by a committee composed of W. M. McCullough, W. J. Robinson, Mrs. Theodore Stonerod and Dr. T. M. Ryall. The distribution is based upon the number of free patients treated in each hospital during the year. An increase of 3,500 "free days" was reported. The following are the sums received by each hospital:

West Penn, $1,900; Homeopathic, $1,775; Allegheny General, $1,425; St. Johns, $540; South Side, $490; Pittsburgh Childrens, $490; Presbyterian, $185; Free Dispensary, $75; total, $6,700. The donation to the Free Dispensary was in return for free office privileges.

The contributions were larger this year than since 1896, except in 1903. Since April 24, the following contributions have been received from the public schools: Eighth ward, Allegheny, $13 35; Free Kindergarten association, $28 88; Harmar township, $6 50; Lawrence, Fifteenth ward, Pittsburgh, $12; East McKeesport, $11; Mifflin township, $11 50; Hamilton, Baldwin township, $3 25; Nos. 1 and 2, Tenth ward, Allegheny, $28 02; Patton township, $17 60; previously reported, $2,319 02. Total, $2,451 12.

TELEPHONE MESSAGE STOPS A HANGING

DES MOINES, June 9.—Just in time to stop what would have been the first legal hanging in Iowa in 10 years, an appeal was filed with the supreme court today in the case of Charles Rocker of Rock Rapids, under sentence for murder. Rocker was to have been hanged at Ammosa today, but a half hour before the time, set for the execution the papers for an appeal arrived and a long distance telephone message stopped the hanging.

Rev. Dr. McEwan to Speak.

NEW CASTLE, June 9.—(Special.)—The annual commencement exercises of Grove City college will begin Sunday, June 18, with the baccalaureate sermon by the president, the Rev. Dr. Isaac Ketler. Monday evening the annual concert of the musical department will be given. Tuesday the class day exercises and the meeting of the trustees will be held. Wednesday will be commencement day. The address to the graduating class will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. William L. McEwan, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh.

FILTER BILLS ARE UP TO CONTROLLER

Contractor's First Estimates on Big City Plant Are Approved by Mr. Bigelow.

GILLESPIE TO SOON RETIRE

Contractor T. A. Gillespie's first bill for work on the big city filter plant, aggregating $10,007, was approved yesterday by Director Bigelow and presented to Controller Larkin for payment. The bill includes six estimates of cost on the work which the contractor performed from the beginning of the construction, about the middle of April upon several of the contracts, to the first day of June.

The estimates cover the work performed in April and May on the contracts for filters and basins, filtered water reservoir, river crossing, pumping station, river wall and pipe line to the South Side. The estimates will be presented monthly by the contractor until the completion of the plant. The six estimates in the hands of the controller cover the cost of excavating, concrete, drain pipe, embankments, etc.

"The estimates will be all scrutinized carefully, but I do not apprehend there will be any dispute over the payment," said Controller Larkin. "I told Mr. Gillespie that we were not going to stand between him and the treasurer. I believe he will give the city a good job and a square deal. He assured me that he intended to give Pittsburgh the best job of his life, and that when the filtration plant is completed he will retire from business and not take another contract. He expects to finish the job in three years. He will then be 60 years of age.

Controller Larkin said yesterday he would take a trip to Aspinwall on Monday or Tuesday, to view the work. This visit will be taken before the estimates are indorsed by the controller and the warrants for their payment made out, but it is not expected that any fault will be found with the estimates. The estimates show there are only four contracts on which work had not begun on the first of June, these contracts being of the character that must wait until the other contracts are further advanced. They are for pumps, engines, boilers and other machinery.

Besides the excavation for the filter beds and reservoirs, work on the river crossing and pumping station, a good start has been made on the new pipe line to the South Side. The trench for the big water main has been dug for two blocks from the new Highland reservoir No. 2, and pipe strung along that distance and farther.

MORE INSPECTORS WANTED.

Committee Seeking Improvement of Tenement Conditions Calls Upon Hays and Moore.

A committee called upon Mayor Hays and Director Moore yesterday afternoon to obtain the aid of those officials in improving the conditions of tenement houses of Pittsburgh. A special request was made for an increase in the number of tenement house inspectors employed by the city under a law enacted two years ago by the legislature.

The city has two inspectors, a man and woman, and the committee said these inspectors were doing good service, but urged the necessity of increasing the number to eight or 10. The mayor and the director pleaded shortage of funds and said the number of inspectors could not be increased until next February, when the annual appropriation bills will be framed.

PRESIDENT AND FAMILY DESERT THE WHITE HOUSE

Mr. Roosevelt Goes to Virginia to Join His Wife and the Children Are Sent to Connecticut.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Silence reigns at the White House, for the members of the president's family are all away. Mrs. Roosevelt left yesterday for Rapidan, Va., for a visit of some days. The president joined her there today, starting this morning, and may spend Sunday with her at the home of Joseph Wilmer.

This morning also saw the departure of the Roosevelt children for the summer. The youngsters, with all their various assortment of pets and other impediments, left under the chaperonage of governesses and nurses. They will visit friends in Connecticut for a week and will not reach Oyster Bay until June 16.

During the two days' stay of the president and Mrs. Roosevelt at the Wilmer farm in Virginia they will inspect the land in the vicinity which they have purchased for a camping-out place. Altogether 15 acres have been taken over and it is very much of a wilderness. Indeed, it was described by one Virginian today as about the worst land in the state, hardly capable of cultivation and surrounded by desolation. It is about 80 miles from Rapidan and midway between Scottsville and Charlottesville. There are only a few old buildings on the place now and for the whole land and buildings the price could hardly have been more than $500. It is more than two hours drive from any railway station.

For the first time since he became president, Mr. Roosevelt today traveled in a regular Pullman car, occupying the drawing room on a Southern railway train. Heretofore he has always used a private car or special train.

$2.50 The Hanover Shoe For Men

The Greatest Shoe Value On Earth.

Notice to Men

There are many of you who with discriminating judgment will admire the Hanover Shoe, but will hesitate to buy it on account of the low price. Don't deceive yourself by thinking that it is too cheap to be good. You don't believe that it is possible to fool thousands of wearers year after year on such a simple proposition, as shoe wear, nor that a fake shoe constantly before the public, could create a demand which caused the outgrowth of two factories within three years, and elicit, without solicitation, inquiries for the line from shoe dealers throughout the United States.

Positively the only difference between the Hanover Shoe and the $3.50 to $5.00 kinds is the price. Same styles, same quality of materials and same Goodyear welt (hand method) process. Lasts designed primarily for comfort and specially patterned to fit at arch and instep, together with all widths and sizes, assure a perfect fitting and absolutely comfortable shoe.

The Hanover maker-to-wearer one profit system make the low price possible. You get the jobbers' and retailers' profits. Don't hesitate; get convinced that you can save a dollar or two. Thousands have in 19 other cities where the Hanover Shoe is sold. They see no use in paying more; neither will you.

EBERHART MAKES GOOD HIS WORD

Commits Suicide, Thus Fulfilling Promise to Die Before His Sick Daughter.

UNKNOWN IS KILLED BY A CAR

Robert Eberhart, a former street car conductor and policeman, and more recently employed by the Allegheny graft investigators, committed suicide by hanging himself yesterday at his house, 88 Sarah street, Allegheny. Eberhart had been unable to get work for some time. He was much attached to his 20-year-old daughter, who is dying of consumption, and yesterday carried out his oft-repeated promise that he would die before Cecil, the sick daughter.

The rope with which Eberhart hung himself was not much thicker than heavy wrapping twine. Aware that it would not bear his weight he had wound one end again and again about his neck and had sunk to his haunches, slowly strangling to death.

Mrs. Eberhart had been talking to her husband in the front room downstairs at 4 p. m., but left him to go upstairs to attend to her daughter. Not hearing her husband who sent her little boy, Charles, four years old, to look for his father. Charles came back and said:

"Mama, Papa is sitting down on the kitchen floor with his head against the wall."

Mrs. Eberhart went down stairs and found her husband crouching close to the floor. The light was dim, but when her husband did not answer she looked closer and saw that his balance was preserved by a rope suspended from a nail in the frame of the cupboard. Sending one of the children for a policeman she got a pair of scissors and cut the rope. Eberhart fell over dead. Policeman Thomas S. McKeown notified the police headquarters, whence word was sent to the coroner.

Trouble Blamed on Drink.

Mrs. Eberhart said her husband had been drinking since his oldest son, aged 24, died of consumption a year ago. Eight of the nine children the couple had are living. One daughter, employed in a factory, did not hear of the suicide until she entered the house.

Eberhart was 50 years old. His father, now dead, was superintendent of the old Manchester horse car line, and Eberhart himself was for some time a conductor on the Allegheny traction lines. He was known as a "strike-breaker," securing temporary employment every time there was a strike, once going to Beaver to work as a conductor during a strike there. He served on the Allegheny police force 10 years and left the force in Mayor Wyman's second term.

An unknown man, aged about 50, was struck by a street car in Fifth avenue, near the Hotel Schenley, at 2:45 o'clock yesterday, dying an hour later at the Mercy hospital. In his coat pocket was a letter addressed to Curtis E. Smoyer, 1416 Hamlin street, Allegheny. The envelope bore the label of the International Brotherhood of Bookbinders' union, home office in Indianapolis. The letter was signed by "Thos. J. Lynch, correspondent."

Bullet Wound Causes Death.

William C. Riemenschneider, aged 27, of East and Third streets, Allegheny, died yesterday at the Allegheny General hospital as a result of a bullet wound inflicted by himself on May 23. The bullet entered the side of his head. He was despondent by reason of ill health.

William Enman, aged 53, of 59 Crawford street, was found dead in bed in his room yesterday. Heart disease is supposed to have caused death.

Joseph Kaprina, aged 38, died at Mercy hospital yesterday from injuries received at the Homestead steel works Thursday by falling off an engine.

Lewis Schlegelmilch, aged 62, of 211 Walnut street, Allegheny, who weighed 350 pounds, was found dead in bed yesterday. Heart disease is supposed to have caused his death.

The body of an unknown woman was found yesterday in the Ohio river at Amburgh. She had been in the water about two weeks. She was about 40 years old, wore a blue dress and coat and patent leather shoes, and weighed about 145 pounds. She had dark hair and eyes.

Michael Parente of McKees Rocks was killed in Booth & Flinn's machine shops at Jumonville street. A section of switch slipped from a crane and crushed him. He was 28 years old.

Stella, a 3-year-old daughter of Charles Greb, 2251 East street, Allegheny, was run over yesterday by a West View street car near her home and died 10 minutes later from her injuries.

RICHARD CROKER AND WIFE ARE RECONCILED

Will Return to New York in Fall. Tammany Eagerly Awaits Old Leader's Homecoming.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 9.—Richard Croker, reconciled to his wife, from whom he has been estranged for several years, will return to New York early in September with her and their three children, who are now with him on his Irish estate near Dublin. The time of his arrival in this city will be coincident with the real opening of the mayoralty campaign, and his intimate friends in Tammany hall hope he will resume at least an indirect leadership of the organization.

On the White Star line steamship Baltic a fortnight ago Mrs. Croker, accompanied by her two daughters, Florence and Ethel, sailed for Queenstown. To a friend, immediately before sailing, Richard Croker, Jr., said that, owing partly to the recent sudden death of his brother Herbert, the estrangement of his father and mother had been ended, and that henceforth they would make their home together. In line with this, it is understood, Richard Croker, Sr., will make New York his home, at least for a portion of each year, the balance being spent on his Irish holdings.

BURGLARS IN HOMESTEAD.

John Jackson Awakens to Find Man Climbing Through Window.

John Jackson of Gold alley and Fifth avenue, Homestead, was awakened yesterday morning by a noise at his window, and getting up saw a man climbing into his room. He was about to make an outcry when the robber told him that if he would make a noise he would kill him. The man then left the place and Jackson notified the police. Later while Officer James Connelly was walking along Lloyd street he saw a man running down the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad track. He captured the man, and it was found that he had made an attempt to enter the home of Frederick Buck in Lloyd street.

Several other houses in Homestead were visited yesterday morning, and it is thought that the prisoner, who gave his name as John Bradley of Allegheny, is the guilty party.

ADMIRAL ENQUIST'S SAILORS ARE PAROLED

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Rear Admiral Train has reported to the navy department that the Russian ships at Manila have been interned. In addition to the information conveyed in Gov. Wright's cablegram, Real Admiral Train said that the coal supply of the ships has been limited, and the officers and men paroled upon condition that they take no further part in the war.

Thirteenth Ward Directors.

The school directors of the Thirteenth ward organized last night by electing Alexander M. Cooper president, Oscar E. Adams secretary and S. A. Will treasurer. W. S. McCutcheon, the present representative on the Central board of education, was re-elected. McCutcheon & Will were chosen as solicitors for the board. The election of teachers was postponed. Lotta park on June 28 was selected for the school picnic. Thomas Geary is the one new member of the board.

BASSETT WILL ENDEAVOR TO VINDICATE KIMBERLY

Beneficiary Under the Will Going to Chicago to Investigate Charges.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, O., June 9.—In an endeavor to vindicate the name and honor of the man who left him a fortune, Ira B. Bassett of Cleveland will leave for Chicago today to investigate the charges of conspiracy and fraud made against Peter L. Kimberly, who died in that city Sunday.

"I don't think it amounts to anything, or that there's a word of truth in it," said Bassett today. "If there was such a case we would have heard of it. We haven't heard a word. But if it proves that there is such a suit, some old litigation, or anything of the kind, we shall fight it to the extent of our ability to vindicate Mr. Kimberly."

According to the Chicago report, the Great Western Gold Mining company of California charges that Kimberly entered into a conspiracy with former officials of the company and sold to the company for $2,000,000 mining property whose real value was but $750,000.

SHARON, June 9.—It became known today that Peter L. Kimberly carried $350,000 life insurance.

The trustees of the estate and W. F. Snyder of Salt Lake City, who were mentioned as defendants in a suit brought by the Great Western Gold Mining company of California, are not worried about the action. The suit was entered eight or nine months ago against Kimberly. The death of Kimberly made it necessary to bring the action against the trustees of the estate. Mr. Snyder, who arrived in town yesterday, says the suit is nothing more than a bluff.

WOMAN HELPED IN BRUTAL MURDER OF HER HUSBAND

Prisoner Testifies of How Horrible Crime Had Been Committed That Elopement Might Be Effected.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

LIBERTY, MO., June 9.—Frank Hottman, who is under sentence of death for his part in the crime, today took the stand at the trial of Mrs. Aggie Myers and told his story of the murder of her husband, Clarence Myers. When Hottman faced the prisoner today, it was the first time their eyes had met since the couple were arrested a year ago. Each stared at the other unmoved.

Hottman told of his planning with Mrs. Myers to kill Myers, that they might marry. Mrs. Myers, he declared had refused to elope with him, saying she "had to get rid of him." Hottman said he first refused to kill Myers, but consented after Mrs. Myers had repeatedly insisted.

They planned the murder minutely, Hottman went to the Myers house and was let in by Mrs. Myers. Myers was awake and the woman gave him something that put him to sleep. After Myers had gone to sleep Hottman struck him on the head with a billiard cue. Myers arose, called to his wife for help, and the men began a death struggle.

"While we were struggling," continued Hottman, "she got a bed slat and struck Myers with it. Then she went back into the bedroom and came out with a razor and cut his throat. I let him down to the floor and she leaned over him and cut his throat again several times."

While Hottman was telling this story Mrs. Myers sat unmoved, watching the witness. Hottman told of Mrs. Myers aiding him to get rid of the blood stains and of her giving him money to flee from the city.

HOLD BANQUET AND BALL.

Commercial Travelers Enjoy Life at Syria Temple as Guests of Fort Pitt Council.

Close to 400 members and guests of the Grand Council of Pennsylvania, United Commercial Travelers, enjoyed last evening the principal social feature of the second annual session of the council held in Pittsburgh this week. The occasion was a banquet at Syria Temple, followed by a reception and ball.

In the after-dinner session C. H. Kelly of Pittsburgh, acted as toastmaster. The invocation was asked by the Rev. Dr. S. Edward Young. Addresses were made by P. M. Dugan of Erie, grand councilor; C. M. Rice, New York, supreme organizer; R. M. Hull, Columbus, supreme treasurer; E. M. Brash, Lancaster, Pa., supreme representative; Harris Comer, Philadelphia, grand treasurer; W. H. Weed, secretary, Commercial Travelers' association of Pittsburgh.

Visitors were present from Erie, coming in a special car; from Philadelphia, Altoona, Johnstown, Dubois, Bradford, Cowry and Meadville. Yesterday afternoon the women of the party visited some Pittsburgh industries. This morning at the concluding business session of the delegates the officers will be chosen for the year. The afternoon will be spent in a railroad trip through the industrial sections about Pittsburgh, ending the convention.

DR. HARPER IMPROVES.

On Advice of Physician, However, He Leaves Chicago to Escape Work of Convocation Week.

CHICAGO, June 9.—(Special.)—President William R. Harper of the University of Chicago left this afternoon for New York, accompanied by Mrs. Harper. He leaves on the advice of his physician, in order to escape the heavy work of convocation week. While in New York Dr. Harper will submit to examination by the physicians who treated him while he was there on his former trip.

A bulletin was issued this morning by Dr. Frank Billings as follows: "Mr. Harper's condition has not been better since the operation in February than at the present time. The cancer is reduced in size and the X-ray treatment is being continued with favorable results. Dr. Harper has a good appetite, digests his food well and his general health is good."

NEWSIES TO TYPEWRITE.

Inmates of Newsboys' Home to Study the Art This Summer.

Stenographers, beware! The profession is threatened with irrepressible competition and gathering clouds threaten a retreat behind the ribbon counters—for the newsboys of the Newsboys' Home are to take up typewriting. The secret was let out during the commencement exercises held in the home last night at the conclusion of the school term. When the question was put as to how many of the newsies would attend a course of instruction in typewriting two nights a week during the vacation term, 12 little fellows put up their hands and the plot was formed.

The exercises last night included an old-fashioned spelling bee and an exhibition of the boys' work in printing, carpentry and other branches. During the term, which from September 1 to June 1, 20 boys did not miss a session. This record is without precedent in the home.

PATRICK'S LAST HOPE VANISHES

Attorney Convicted of Murdering Millionaire Rice Is Denied a New Trial.

THREE JUDGES DISSENT

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 9.—The court of appeals at Albany today denied the motion of the lawyers of Albert T. Patrick for a new trial. He must pay the full penalty of the law for the murder of William Marsh Rice in this city on September 28, 1900.

The date of Patrick's electrocution will be fixed by the court of appeals. He was convicted April 7, 1902, of murder in the first degree, and has been in the death house at Sing Sing for more than three years, with the exception of a trip to Albany when his appeal was being argued. It is believed the action of the court of appeals practically determines Patrick's fate, as there is little likelihood Gov. Higgins will interfere.

The case has been one of the most noted in the criminal history of the country, because of the unusual nature of the charge, the fact that Patrick, as a lawyer, has worked constantly in prison on his case and is one of the few men who ever heard their appeals argued before the court of appeals; and the claim made by Patrick that the condition of Rice's lungs, declared by physicians to be caused by chloroform, was the result of the action of the embalming gases.

The decision is rendered by a divided court. The prevailing opinion is written by Judge Gray, and is concurred in by Judges Bartlett, Haight and Werner. Judges O'Brien, Vann and Cullen dissent from the judgment. Judge O'Brien writing a dissenting opinion. Judge Cullen also wrote a short dissenting opinion.

Unless Patrick's attorneys have evidence which was not introduced at his former trials, he will have to go to the electric chair. Before this, however, he will be brought before Recorder Goff, who presided at the last trial, and be resentenced.

Patrick will not know until tomorrow of the affirmation by the court of appeals of his conviction. The announcement of the court's action did not reach Sing Sing prison today until after the death cells were locked for the night. A day or two ago Patrick told Warden Johnson that if the court of appeals ruled against him he would renew his efforts to save his life, either by applying for a new trial on the ground of new material evidence, or else by an appeal to the United States courts.

The most extensive stock of Mid-Summer Millinery ever in the store.

Stylish, light, beautiful things.

A few are shown in each of the large cases in the show room—but the majority are in separate boxes—each enclosed in white tissue paper to keep it scrupulously clean—ready to be shown in the various private rooms.

We're calling attention to a line of Millinery that is not only stylish, but practical—Millinery of the highest class—from the most critical standpoint.

Good materials with fine work and taste displayed in their production.

We determined some time ago that this Millinery should make a place for itself—on as high or a higher plane than its competitors.

Another thing determined was, more Millinery business should be done.

How?—with more beautiful Millinery and less prices.

There is no question but that we have succeeded—as the Millinery business is considerably ahead of last year—which is quite a record for such a season as this—as the Millinery business is behind almost everywhere.

If the Millinery had not been pretty and more practical—and less price—the above would have been impossible.

We ask women—whether to buy or not—to come and see—ask to be shown the medium to the finest—and then determine whether the above statements in regard to this Millinery are justified or not.

Price range, $2.00 to $45.00.
An unusual showing of stylish things at $7.00, $8.00 and $10.00.
Special sale today at $3.50 and $5.00—large Hats and Turbans—Black and all colors.

Children's fine Trimmed Hats at $1.00 and $2.00 and up to $12.00.

shirtwaists

We don't intend to lay back on our laurels and float along on what's been done before.

Just because this has been a surprisingly busy season in the Shirt Waist Department and the selling has been large—we don't intend to calmly look on and let it go at that—the newest ideas must be shown as soon as produced.

And you'll find it done.

Superb collection of new styles at $1.00 — White Lawn with various conceptions of the season's best ways to trim a waist.

New styles White Waists at $1.25.
New styles White Waists, $1.50.

CLARK DENIES PRIMARY STORY

Citizens Secretary Tells How His Party Will Select Delegates to County Convention.

MUST HAVE AN INVITATION

Citizens party primaries will not be held tomorrow, nor are they scheduled for any other date. Delegates to the county convention to be held on June 27 will be selected at private meetings to be held in the various election districts.

James W. Clark, secretary of the Citizens party organization, is authority for the statement it is not the intention to hold primaries. "I am at a loss to know how the impression got abroad that we were to conduct primaries tomorrow," said Mr. Clark. "We could not hold primaries, as we do not know who is eligible to vote. During the last week meetings have been held in the election districts for the selection of delegates to the county convention and members of the county committee. These gatherings will continue until the delegates are all elected. Notices are sent to those who are expected to attend the meetings."

One of the meetings Secretary Clark mentions was evidently held in the office of the county recorder yesterday. There were present Recorder J. D. O'Neil and Pension Agent John W. Nesbit. The men had a sheet containing the voting districts of the Sixth legislative district and were engaged in writing a name opposite the name of each precinct. No doubt the delegates for the entire legislative district were elected at this meeting. In the holding of this primary none of the pension office stationery was used. This method of selecting delegates keeps the expense to the minimum and prevents factional fights in the organization." It is much the same method employed by Timothy O'Leary in the good old days when it was necessary to have a "roll" in a Democratic convention.

The nine common pleas court judges are supposed to meet today to fill the vacancy caused by the death of County Commissioner J. C. Mercer. The candidates are I. K. Campbell, W. J. Zahniser, Harry T. Rowley and W. W. Murray. One of them may be appointed or the position may go to a man who has not been mentioned. Most of the politicians are willing to forecast the action of the judges, but there are hardly two stories which agree. The report that the Republican organization has recommended either Mr. Campbell or Zahniser is incorrect. Many Republicans favor the selection of either of the men, but the organization has not made a formal recommendation. The Orphans would be satisfied with either appointment. Mr. Murray is also indorsed by many Republicans. Mr. Rowley is the choice of the Citizens. One Citizen leader said yesterday he understood that five judges would support Mr. Zahniser and four would vote for Mr. Rowley. Should his guess be correct Mr. Zahniser will be appointed. Other guessers give the place to Mr. Campbell, and quite a number predict the appointment of Mr. Murray.

TENDERS HIS RESIGNATION.

THOMAS LANE.

Thomas Lane, who for several months has been secretary of the Builders Exchange League, has resigned, and the duties of the position are being assumed by Capt. J. A. A. Brown, bookkeeper for the league. The resignation came as a surprise.

Mr. Lane has been identified with the league since it was organized. He was a member of the Builders Exchange, which was dissolved when the league was formed. He was a hard worker to bring about settlements between the employers and employe. He leaves the secretaryship with the best wishes of every member of the league.

REFUSES STATE PRINTING.

W. Stanley Ray Declines to Do the Work and Supt. Pomeroy Will Look to the Next Lowest Bidder.

HARRISBURG, June 9.—(Special.)—W. Stanley Ray, present state printer, has turned down Public Printing Supt. Pomeroy's offer of the public printing contract for the next four years. The superintendent will now pass the contract up to T. Larry Eyre of West Chester, the next lowest bidder.

Should Eyre refuse, and he said some time ago that he would, the contract will be offered to the Harrisburg Publishing Company at its bid of 56 off the maximum price. The state will undertake to collect the difference in the price of the printing from Clarence M. Busch of Philadelphia, who refused the contract because of the action of the last legislature in cutting off 85,000 volumes of the state publication yearly.

MRS. ROGERS MUST HANG.

Supreme Court Denies Condemned Woman a New Trial, and the Governor Will Not Interfere.

ALBANY, June 9.—Judge Rufus W. Peckham of the United States supreme court today declined to grant a writ of error which would allow the case of Mrs. Mary Rogers of Vermont, under sentence of death for the murder of her husband, to go to the United States court.

MIDDLEBURY, VT., June 9.—Gov. Bell, when informed of the decision of Judge Peckham today, said: "Now that the writ of error has been denied the law must take its course."

TWO RAG DUMMIES ARE ANNIHILATED

Traction Company Must Comply With Law, Despite Failure in Fender Tests.

ONLY TWO DEVICES DO WORK

After two dummy men had been beheaded, dismembered and "pulverized" in the street car fender test in Euclid avenue yesterday afternoon, Mayor Hays and Director Harry Moore kicked up the sawdust which had been promiscuously ripped from the viscera of the "remains," and declared the Pittsburgh Railways Company would be obliged to adopt some sort of device as a protection for trolley cars. This mandate will not be enforced immediately and there will be other fender tests, but in the end the traction company will be compelled to comply with the law.

Eleven patent fenders were tested yesterday. None was found practical and all but one or two were notable only as failures. The street car men thought they had made a 10-strike in preying for all time that street car fenders are a useless incumbrance. Up to date over 100 fenders have been tested, and, generally, have been found wanting. Nevertheless, the mayor and his director of public safety have not abandoned their contention that fenders are necessary.

Arrangements for the Tests.

Arrangements were made yesterday for star tests. The private trolley car, "Pittsburgh," fitted up with summer draperies and the newest cushions, was brought downtown and the mayor, the director of the department of public safety, with General Superintendent John Murphy of the traction company, and several inventors and spectators, made the trip to Bryant street and Euclid avenue, where 12 big cars, fitted with 11 of the latest life-saving contrivances, were brought down from the Bunker Hill barns. Two dummies, resembling Clarion county scare-crows, and as big as the giants of Patagonia, were brought forth. The dummies were filled with sawdust and dressed in sack suits.

One of the dummies was placed in an advantageous position across the track and car 3122, fitted with the Stevenson-Daly fender, came on at a speed of 40 miles an hour. There was a buzz and a thud. The car dashed on, the dummy rolled underneath and the official party was buried in a shower of sawdust. W. H. Stevenson, the former Citizens-Orphan councilman from the Fourteenth ward, is said to be interested in this fender.

Dummy Was Ground Up.

The dummy was dragged out in pieces and rehabilitated for car 3054, equipped with the Hunter fender, manufactured in Cincinnati. This time the poor dummy was ground into a rag ball and was thrown aside. Cars fitted with the Sterling-Meeker fenders, made by a firm in Newark, N. J., and the Parmenter fender, manufactured by a Wheeling firm, did little better.

There was a hull and car 3190, fitted with a fender built by Dr. S. B. Rhine of 7026 Frankstown avenue, made a rush for the fresh dummy. While everybody held his breath, the fender picked up the rag man and carried him down the street. Then the dummy was placed in position and car 3188, with the Wheeling fender, was started. The fender picked up the dummy, but the motorman could not shut off the power and a collision seemed inevitable. The conductor and two other men on the rear platform sprang off, and it looked as if there would be a bumper test with disastrous results. Fortunately the motorman ran out and pulled off the trolley pole, and the car was stopped.

Other Fenders Are Tried.

The Crawford fender of Philadelphia, the W. J. Ward fender of Philadelphia and the McKinley fender offered by C. W. Benny of this city, took respective turns in annihilating the second dummy. It was the opinion of the traction people that all had been failures. The Rhine and Wheeling fenders were objected to because they required extra work on the part of the motormen.

"The Hunter fender is the best, because it is automatic," said Mayor Hays. "No matter how good the theory of a fender is, it is hardly to be considered practicable if its mechanism depends upon the motorman's presence of mind in its operation. Nine times out of 10 the motorman will forget to push the lever. Over 100 fenders have been tested and we have several on the waiting list. A new one bobs up about six times a week. Director Moore and I expect to have a consultation, and it is probable we shall consult with council and ask that the traction company select one of the life-saving devices which have been demonstrated."

ALLEGHENY IS GENEROUS.

PRICE OF STOCK RAISED TO CITY

Administration Abandons Purchase of South Side Water Plant This Year.

HUMP ELECTION ON JULY 18

Director Bigelow decided yesterday to have the second vote on the removal of the hump taken on Tuesday, July 18, but it has also been determined that the question of a bond issue for the purchase of the South Side water plant shall not be submitted at the same time. It is almost certain the purchase of the Monongahela Water company's plant will not be taken up until next year. The present contract of the water company does not expire until December, 1906, but the principal reason why the present administration has abandoned the purchase of the plant is due to the refusal of the company to agree to a sale upon reasonable terms.

"The stock of the Monongahela Water company is being offered at the stock exchange in small lots at $40 a share, but we were told the large holders of the stock would not sell for less than $80," said Mayor Hays yesterday. "We were trying to get a price on the plant, but when we heard these figures we gave up the idea of buying. I am certain that a bond issue for the purchase of the plant will not be submitted with the hump proposition."

According to the price which Mayor Hays says was furnished the city administration, the South Side plant would cost the city, if purchased now, over $5,000,000. The company's present capitalization is $2,600,000. The par value of the stock is $25 per share, which fixes the number of shares at 104,000. There is very little of the stock on the market just now.

"Mr. Frick will sign a waiver of damages in a few days, if he has not signed already," said Director Bigelow yesterday. "I saw him the other day, and he instructed his agent, Mr. Carr, to have a waiver prepared. Mr. Carr called at our office yesterday to obtain a form of the waivers we are using. Mr. Frick's waiver will be similar to the one he signed last year, stipulating that work shall begin not later than the first of January after the bonds are voted, and that the job must be completed in two years. We are getting waivers every day. There will be no doubt about the people voting for the bond issue for the hump this time."

Director Bigelow said over-confidence was the cause of the defeat of the hump project last year, but no chances would be taken this time. The pay-roll is expected to do its utmost to bring out enough votes to counteract any adverse sentiment from the South Side and other sections. The ordinance authorizing an election on July 18 will be introduced in councils next Monday.

THE MURRAY AVENUE PLAN

Will Have All Been Sold---We Will---Like the Arab---Fold Our Tents and Move On

And Where Our Office Tent Stood Scores of Industrious Mechanics Will Be Erecting the Handsome Houses

for the 216 fortunate purchasers that will make the Murray Avenue Plan beautiful in its modern structures—and this is no mere dream—or idle pen picture—when we will tell you that the

MURRAY AVE. PLAN IS IN THE VERY HEART OF THE SQUIRREL HILL DISTRICT

Is traversed through its entire breadth by the MURRAY AVENUE CAR LINE, connecting directly the pulsing, throbbing downtown district with the busy workshop of the world—that behive of industry—Homestead. When you realize that the Yellow Line as it is called, connecting with Homestead, Braddock, McKeesport, East Liberty and the city, runs directly through the Murray Avenue Plan—when you know that the

BEAUTIFUL BEECHWOOD BOULEVARD

which is to Pittsburgh what Pall Mall is to London, the Champs Elysee to Paris, or Riverside Drive to New York—also runs directly through the Murray Avenue Plan, over which the wealth, fashion and beauty of Pittsburgh pass daily in their autos and carriages—when you see the beautiful frontage of the boulevard and Murray Avenue—and when we tell you that none of the lots are more than two blocks from Murray avenue car line—and when you realize that frontage on the fashionable drives in the other cities mentioned is worth thousands of dollars per front foot and—here expect to be SHOCKED, ASTONISHED AND STUPEFIED—when we tell you that some of these lots can actually be bought for $300—not $300 per front foot, but a whole lot for $300—and the beautiful level frontage on the boulevard for $50 per front foot—you will realize—as we do—that sales day will not be over ere every lot will be secured—and

or secure a home site that for choice location and price will never again be equalled in Pittsburgh. These lots are all popular and are sold subject to rigid restrictions, which, however, were not absolutely necessary to be imposed—as the entire plan is surrounded by beautiful homes—many of them mansions. Do you know that this property is only a few minutes' walk from Schenley Park—only one square from Shady avenue—only 25 minutes' ride from the Court House and only 10 minutes' ride from Homestead—and less than 10 minutes' ride from East Liberty—that it is only two blocks from another car line, and that one of the finest school houses in Pittsburgh is being built within a few hundred feet of the property.

To realize all that we tell you, all that the Murray Avenue Plan promises the investor, all that the surroundings are absolutely certain to make of the Murray Avenue Plan, it is necessary for you to take a ride out to the property.

YOU ARE ABSOLUTELY CERTAIN to buy. No real estate investment has ever before appealed so forcibly to the investor, home-seeker or speculator, and you will go home with a contract for a Murray avenue lot in your pocket and feeling that you have made the best deal of your life.

COME AT ONCE--DO NOT DELAY

And as there are over 500,000 people in Pittsburgh and vicinity and only 216 lots—the man who is prompt, active, energetic, will take the first car to Murray Avenue Plan and prove his right to the title of the successful man by applying to this business—the maxim of success in every effort in life, "DO IT NOW." Take any Homestead car via Forbes street, or Kennywood, Shady and Penn avenue car to corner Murray and Beechwood avenue.

SOCIETY

A NUMBER of small and informal social affairs are being given in honor of Miss Helen Dickson, whose marriage to Benjamin Dangerfield, Jr., will take place on June 20 in Christ Methodist Episcopal church. Miss Alice Dangerfield and Miss Florence Dangerfield will entertain the girls in the bridal party at luncheon at their home on Friday of next week, and the same guests will be entertained in a similar manner on Wednesday by Miss Marguerite Scott of Black street, East End. Miss Amanda McCluley of West North avenue, Allegheny, will be hostess at a dinner next Saturday evening when Miss Dickson and Mr. Dangerfield will be the honor guests. Miss Frances Taylor of Philadelphia will reach Pittsburgh tomorrow to be Miss Dickson's house guest over the wedding, and next Sunday evening a private car will come into the city with a party of out-of-town wedding guests, Mrs. Robert W. Downing of Philadelphia, the bride's sister, who is to be her matron or honor, is expected here on Wednesday. The party arriving next Sunday will include Mr. Downing, Miss Roberta Downing, Master Spencer Brown Downing, Norris A. Scott, Miss Katherine Taylor and Mrs. Francis G. Taylor, all of the Quaker city, who will stop at the Schenley.

Enlarge Bridal Party.

A little flower girl, Miss Elizabeth Rodgers, has been added to the bridal party which will attend Miss Elsie Kiefer and Sheldon Catlin of Bridgeport, Conn., at their wedding next Wednesday. The wedding will be a home event at 6:30 o'clock with the Rev. Alonzo Tuckle, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, Allegheny, officiating. The bridal party, in addition to little Miss Rodgers, will include Miss Cornelia Catlin and George Catlin, sister and brother of the bridegroom, as maid of honor and best man; and Ralph W. Kiefer, brother of the bride, Egbert Marsh, brother-in-law of the bridegroom and Arthur Marsh of Bridgeport, as ushers. Senator L. S. Catlin, father of the bridegroom, is expected in Pittsburgh on Monday to remain at the McKenzie house in Bellevue over the wedding. His wife and the out-of-town bridal attendants reached here last evening. The rehearsal for the wedding will take place on Tuesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Kiefer will give a dinner. Mr. Catlin and his bride will sail the Saturday following their wedding for a two months' tour of Europe. On their return they will reside with Mr. and Mrs. Kiefer for a time.

People Coming and Going.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Scully and their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Scully of Bellefield avenue, left the city on Thursday morning for Shepardstown, W. Va., and were followed in the evening by their sons, Cornelius J. Scully and John S. Scully, Jr. The wedding of the former to Miss Rosalie Pendleton will be an event of today in Trinity church, Shepardstown. The bridal couple will spend their honeymoon in Holland and on their return will live at the Scully residence in Bellefield avenue. The other members of the family will return to Pittsburgh about the middle of next week.

Dr. Henry Martyn Hall of Shady avenue came home yesterday from Bryn Mawr. He attended the graduating exercises of the college, where his sister, Miss Margaret G. Hall, was a senior. Miss Hall has accepted a position in St. Agnes' school, Albany, N. Y.

Opens New Kindergarten House.

Miss Caroline H. Hall of Shady avenue will spend July at the New York University summer school, which is in charge of Miss Patty Hill, head of all the St. Louis kindergartens. In August Miss Hall will go to Chautauqua, where the Chicago kindergarteners will convene. Miss Hall's kindergarten in Shady avenue was closed for the season yesterday, the exercises also serving as opening ones for her beautiful new kindergarten house. The house is of the Queen Anne style, and was built especially for Miss Hall's work, the plans having been drawn by Carter Strong. The pupils, all of whom are members of representative Pittsburgh families, did especially well in their singing. They distributed their work among their mothers, who were their guests for the morning. Miss Hall was assisted by Miss McIlvaine, Miss Johnston, Miss Wassell and Miss Hamilton.

Wedding Invitations Are Out.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin C. Hockensmith of Graham street have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Milly Hockensmith, and Howard Boyd Ward, the wedding to take place at their home at 8 o'clock on the evening of June 22. The Rev. Dr. Daniel Dorchester, Jr., pastor of Christ Methodist Episcopal church will perform the ceremony, and the bridal party will include Miss Lillie McGinness as maid of honor; Miss Estella Ward, a sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Nellie Hartje as bridesmaids; Charles Ward, a brother, as best man; William Ward, also a brother, and Charles Totten as ushers. Miss Ward will give a porch party at her home in Grant boulevard next Friday evening. Miss McGinness preceding it with a tea on Thursday afternoon. The rehearsal will take place on the Tuesday evening before the wedding.

Boat House Card Party.

Mrs. Harry Garrison Budd, her sister, Mrs. Harry Rowand, and Miss Mary Morris were joint hostesses at a large and fashionable card party in the Oakmont Boat club yesterday afternoon. There was no special guest of honor. The guests, who played six-hand euchre, surrounded nine tables and there were also several "fancy workers." The euchre prizes went to Mrs. William T. Drill, Mrs. Josephine Kirby, Miss Edith Arensberg and Mrs. Harry S. Paul, while the prize for fancy work was given to Mrs. Laurens McClure.

Wedding in Concordia Club.

Mrs. Sophie Stadtfeld has issued cards for the marriage of her daughter, Miss Rosa Stadtfeld, and Otto Rosenheim of Cincinnati, to take place in the Concordia club on Monday evening, June 26, at 8 o'clock. The bridal party will include Miss Dora Stadtfeld as maid of honor; Lewis Rosenheim of Chattanooga, Tenn., as best man; Miss Marion Pichel, flower girl; Master Rodgers Stadtfeld and Joseph Stadtfeld, Jr., as ribbon bearers; Albert Santer of Detroit and A. Stadtfeld as ushers.

The Misses Laughlin Coming Home.

Miss Martha Page Laughlin and Miss Leila Irwin Laughlin are expected home from "Zydonia," their Florida home in Zellwood, during the coming week. Mr. and Mrs. James Laughlin, Jr., their parents, arrived at their home in Lincoln avenue, Allegheny, a few days ago. Preparations are now going on apace for the wedding of Miss Laughlin to Edgar V. Seeley of Philadelphia on June 29.

Recall Wedding Invitations.

Owing to serious illness in the family Mr. and Mrs. William H. Glynn of Margaretta street have recalled the invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Geraldine Glynn, and Charles L. Urban. The wedding was to have taken place in the Roman Catholic church of the Sacred Heart on Thursday morning next, but plans have now been made to have it take place quietly at a later hour.

School Girls Hold Picnic.

Chaperoned by Miss Lee, Miss Lyon, Miss Arundel and Miss Gleim, the junior classes of Miss Gleim's Preparatory school gave a picnic yesterday in Guyasuta. A special trolley car left Fifth and Negley avenues at 10:30 o'clock in the morning and reached the same point, returning, at 5:30 o'clock. The girls walked to the top of Washboard falls, where they spread their lunch.

President's Reception at Brighton Club.

An informal but thoroughly delightful affair was the reception and dance given at the Brighton Country club last evening by its president, Charles W. Dahlinger. About 200 guests were present, the list including club members and their friends. The grounds were hung with Japanese lanterns.

Hostess for the Third Time.

Mrs. William Henry Singer gave the third in her series of bridge luncheons yesterday afternoon at her home, "Breezehurst" Sewickley. On this occasion covers were laid for 22; the guests including friends from the valley, as well as from East End and Allegheny.

Notes of Society.

Mrs. R. W. Smith of Perrysville avenue, Allegheny, entertained informally last evening in honor of Miss Margaret Stirling and Robert Hardie Leitch, a bridal couple of the month.

A reception will be given in the Auditorium on Tuesday evening by Pittsburgh lodge No. 59, Knights of Pythias.

Miss Sara Pfeil gave a picnic in Highland park yesterday for the girls in the class of '05, Pennsylvania College for Women, the guest of honor being Miss Jennie McSherry, who is visiting Miss Hilda Sadler of Chislett street, East End.

The Union class of the Fourth Avenue Baptist Bible school will hold a lawn fete this afternoon and evening from 3 to 10 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Bond, Steuben street, Crafton.

Miss Mary Catherine Over of Hazelville entertained the members of the Sewickley dancing class last evening in honor of Charles and Marianne Cornelius, who are members of the class. About 35 guests were present.

Summit Park

The Common Sense Suburb Where You Get 100x200 feet for $750 on the Main Highway---It's a Square Deal.

THIS SUMMIT PARK proposition is meeting with greater favor among real estate investors than anything ever offered before in Allegheny County. Why?

BECAUSE it is based on common sense and stands right on its merits. It is a straightforward, plain business offer, which any man with a fair knowledge of real estate values in Greater Pittsburgh can see at a glance.

EXAMINE it from every point of view, compare it with other propositions put before the public in the past or present, and you will agree that our claims are not in the least extravagant.

THE MOST CONSERVATIVE appraiser of the most conservative bank or trust company in Pittsburgh will tell you that Summit Park frontage 200 feet deep at $7.50 per foot is remarkably cheap.

WHY, you cannot buy farms around Summit Park for less than $1,000 to $1,200 per acre—and that means buying 50 acres or so, taking the good with the bad, with no improvements of any sort. We are actually retailing the first 100 acres of the entire 1,000 acres in Summit Park at an average of $1,250 per acre, and you take your choice.

ONE THOUSAND ACRES make a vast tract—larger than the entire downtown portion of Pittsburgh. Summit Park extends 1 1-2 miles along the new Charleroi car line, which will be a trunk line for many branches. That gives us 3 miles of frontage on one of the main highways of Greater Pittsburgh, and a peep at the map will show you that Summit Park is on the 5-mile radius from the Court House—nearer than Highland Park.

YOU CAN READILY SEE that we have enough land in the right location for a fine big suburban residence town.

THE OWNERS of this property have the capital and they are spending it to make Summit Park the leading suburb of Pittsburgh.

NEARLY ALL of the lots in Summit Park are 100x200 feet in size. The main thoroughfare, over which the electric cars pass, is 113 feet wide, and the other streets are uniformly 50 feet wide. It is plain to the most unexperienced buyer that a residence town laid out on these broad lines is many times more attractive, will draw a more desirable class of neighbors, better houses and better improvements, and be more valuable as real estate than if it were cut up into 25, 30, 40, or even 50 feet wide and 100 to 125 feet deep.

THE OBJECTION to practically all of our Pittsburgh suburbs is that they were started on narrow, commercial lines, or, in other words, sub-divided at the rate of 8 or 10 lots to the acre, instead of 2 or 4 to the acre, and sold without restrictions as to buildings, etc. In the course of a few years such a suburb is suburban only in point of location. It has developed into a crowded collection of nondescript houses, and the individual owner with his small lot has his light, air and view shut off on all sides.

IN SUMMIT PARK you can build only one house to a lot, you must keep back to the building line and your house must cost not less than $2,500. These restrictions are made to cover a period of 10 years. They are not prohibitive to buyers of moderate means, but they cut out the kind of houses which do harm to a place.

FOR LITTLE MORE than the price of an average city lot you can buy an up-to-date homestead in Summit Park, with plenty of ground and trees around you, and when your days for earning are done you will have a piece of ground worth 10 times as much as you paid for it. This is the difference between a 30-foot lot proposition and a place like Summit Park.

PUT ALL OF YOUR INVESTMENT opportunities into a sieve and one fact remains: No investment in Pittsburgh is so secure and so sure of bringing returns as the land on which Pittsburgh is built. This town will be growing long after you are dead. If you are wise you are putting your savings into real estate, and there is no opportunity like Summit Park for investors of moderate means.

COME OUT TODAY or tomorrow and talk it over with us. Take Charleroi car at Third Avenue and Wood Street. Express cars leave at 9 minutes after the hour. Get off at Summit Park Station in 35 minutes.

LOOK THEM ALL OVER, but hold on to your money till you have seen Summit Park. That is all we ask.

PRICES: Lots 100x200, $750; 100x250, $750; 75x180, $575; 50x140, $375. Terms: 10 per cent cash, 3 per cent per month; 10 per cent discount for cash in 60 days. No interest and no taxes till lot is paid for. Every title insured. Get a booklet.

AMONG THE CLUBS

Association Planning Summer Work.

The Young Women's Christian association has planned an innovation this season and will conduct summer classes. Circulars were issued yesterday announcing that a summer sewing school will be held during July in the Central Young Women's Christian association building in Fifth street. There will be classes in dressmaking and millinery on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings, while plain sewing classes will be held on Tuesday and Thursday mornings. On Monday and Friday afternoons there will be classes in draughting. All will be in charge of Miss Baldt and Miss Davidson of the domestic art department. The classes will open Monday, July 3, and applications for enrollment must be made at once as only a limited number of pupils can be admitted. At the Lawrenceville branch of the Young Women's Christian association in Butler street, plans for summer work are progressing. A summer playground and vacation school for the children will be held in July and August and arrangements are being made for several classes in various branches of domestic arts during the hot summer weeks.

Women's Club Picnic.

The members of the Women's club will be the guests of Mrs. Minnie Gurey Roberts next Tuesday, June 13, at her home near Carnegie. The women have arranged to meet at 10:30 o'clock in the morning at Penn avenue and Fifth street, where they will take a Carnegie or Crafton car, getting off at Carlin station. Mrs. Roberts lives on the farm which has been in her family for over a century, and which has been her own home for 25 years. If the weather is fair the luncheon tables will be placed on the lawn under the apple and cherry trees. Arrangements will be made, should it rain, for the entertainment to be conducted on the porches and in-doors.

Will Close With Musicale.

An exceptionally enjoyable musical program and other interesting features of a social character will mark the closing session of the Travelers club, which will be held on Tuesday afternoon in the assembly room of the Central Young Women's Christian association building in Fifth street. No literary program will be presented, the meeting being purely a social one with music under the direction of Mrs. A. B. West.

Club Women Go Out of Town.

Mrs. Arthur Hartwell was hostess to the members of the Epoch club yesterday at a special meeting held at her home in Sewickley. The Decade club II., went to Washington, Pa., where its hostess was Miss Margaret McClelland.

RISE WAS A FAILURE.

Small Quantity of Coal Sent Out by River Coal Company.

Only a small quantity of coal was sent out on the present rise and all of it by the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company. The other coal companies decided not to ship, where the rise learned they would be but little more than a foot on the 17th. At Montgomery's island the J. C. Risher steel barges. They were pulled off again yesterday and taken down without further trouble.

The Lorena was the Zanesville packet in yesterday. She brought a big trip of farm products from the Muskingum valley.

The Greenland got in from Charleston, bringing a heavy trip.

The Columbia had to abandon her trip and did not reach this city from Morgantown until late last evening, owing to heavy fog.

The Francis J. Torrance went to Moss Side grove on the Monongahela yesterday with the Knoxville school children.

The Raymond Horner got in yesterday with a big tow of empties. Several other Pittsburgh boats are now hurrying up the river to get in before the water gets too low.

The Virginia will be the Cincinnati boat in tomorrow.

A party of ten from Cambridge, O., will meet the Queen City next week on her trip down to Cincinnati, make the run to that city, back to Pittsburgh, and return to Marietta, the starting point.

Has Battle With Thieves.

An attempt was made to rob James Johnson's store in Hays borough yesterday morning. Johnson put up a hard fight with the thieves and they made their escape in the darkness, carrying with them a slot machine. Johnson was just closing his store and went to the front door to take in the machine when three men attacked him. He knocked one man down and put another out of the fight by a well-placed kick in the stomach.

PIRATES GIVE THE GIANTS' STARS WORST BUMPING OF THE SEASON

PIRATES BUMP GIANTS' STARS

McGinnity Driven from Box and Mathewson Given Warm Reception.

A VERY STRENUOUS GAME

Those who like strenuous baseball got all that was coming to them yesterday afternoon over at Exposition park, when the Pirates took the third game of the series from the champion Giants, 12 to 6. The contest was an old-fashioned slugging match, and there was enough action in the opening innings to do for three ball games.

It certainly was a wonder that some in that crowd of 8,110 spectators did not burst a blood vessel, for there was more excitement and cheering in the first innings than has been shown at a ball game in years. Out of that great crowd it is safe to say there was not a dozen who were not on their feet whooping it up for all they were worth. Bedlam let loose was mild in comparison.

The occasion of all this was a batting rally produced by the Pirates at a time when all hope seemed lost and the display put up by Clarke's crew fairly carried the champions off their feet. Before Manager McGraw could get his forces calmed down the locals had overcome a lead of five runs and ended the inning one run to the good.

Sam Leever was the pitcher selected to work for the Pirates, but the schoolmaster lasted only one inning and in that one he got all that was coming to him and then some. Donlin, the Giants' first batter, started the trouble with a single, and Browne went out from Ritchey to Howard. Donlin reaching second on the play. At this point Leever lost the location of the home plate and he passed the next two batsmen. There was where the real trouble put in an appearance, and before the inning was over five hits were made, four singles and a double, and these with the two bases on balls produced five runs.

This was an awful handicap for Leever to put on his team, and there was fire in the eye of each Pirate as he strode in from the field. McGraw had sent McGinnity to the firing line and it looked like a hopeless task for the home team. However, Clymer opened for the Pirates with a two-base hit to left field. Clarke waited and was awarded a base on balls, and when Beaumont singled to left and brought Clymer home with the first run the crowd started in to root.

Wagner kept up the good work by driving a hot one to Dahlen, which that player fumbled, Clarke scoring. Howard was there with a single to middle field, scoring Beaumont with the third run. This was more than McGraw would stand for and he strode out onto the diamond and called the great "Iron Man" out of the box and yelled for Mathewson, who was back of the stand warming up, to take McGinnity's place. The advent of Christy did not strike terror into the souls of the Pirates as McGraw expected. On the contrary they went right after his curves and before the third hand had been retired three more runs had been scored, making six in all.

When the second inning opened Phillippe walked out to the rubber and was greeted with a cheer, which was turned into a perfect roar when he struck the side out after two hits had been made. That was pitching some and the same kind of work was kept up during the remainder of the game, the visitors only securing three more hits during the seven innings. They did manage to squeeze in one run, but it would not have been scored had it not been for a passed ball by Peitz. The Pirates were not to be headed off by Mathewson, and kept right at him, scoring three runs in the second inning on three hits, a balk and an error by McGann.

Mathewson, finding that the locals were taking too kindly to his speed, shifted his delivery and used his slow ball, but even this did not fool Clarke's men and they scored one more run in the fifth inning on a daring display of base running by Leach. Tommy went all the way from first to third on an out at first. Two more runs were chalked up in the sixth on a fumble by Dahlen, a single by Beaumont, and a fine double by Wagner.

The game was a lively one all the way and there was some of the most spirited fielding seen here in a long time. The Pirates' infield was particularly busy and each player distinguished himself. As usual Ritchey was right in the thick of the fray with some fine plays that called for cheers, as were also Wagner and Leach. The Giants after the first inning played a careless game and many misplays were chalked up against them. The joy of the local rooters over the Pirates' fine victory was heightened by the fact that Clarke's men had given the Giants star pitchers their worst bumping of the season. The score:

Game Goes to Leever's Credit.

In order to settle a number of disputes it is stated that the credit for yesterday victory over the Giants will go to Pitcher Leever. When Phillippe took charge after the Pirates' half of the first inning the locals were in the lead 6 to 5, and that gives the credit to Leever. This is rather tough on the deacon, whose fine work made the victory assured, but it is according to the rules.

SUSPENDS TWO PLAYERS.

Billy Hamilton and "Red" Calhoun Given Salty Doses—Other Offenders Will Suffer.

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—President Creamer of the Tri-State league tonight made the following announcement:

"Manager Hamilton of the Harrisburg club is suspended for five days for conduct toward an official umpire unbecoming a manager and player. Calhoun of Harrisburg is suspended for five days for offensive language and action toward an official umpire and an additional five days for failure to appear before the league executive committee at Harrisburg on Wednesday night last. The suspension of both Hamilton and Calhoun goes into effect on Monday, June 12."

The suspensions are a result of the York-Harrisburg games of Monday and Tuesday, May 29 and 30. The executive committee of the league, Messrs. Brough, Smith and Berrel and President Creamer, heard the evidence at Harrisburg last Wednesday night. President Creamer, when seen tonight, said: "The suspensions of Hamilton and Calhoun is but a first step. The next crack out of the box by any player will mean indefinite removal from the game. The Tri-State is being conducted in the interests of the public, who pay to see baseball. If players cannot control themselves on the field they will be forced out of the league."

Clairton defeated the Braddock Works A. S. & W. Co. team yesterday in a fast and interesting game, 2 to 1.

Pittsburgh Lyceum will go to Latrobe today to play the St. Vincent College team. All players will report at Union station at 12:30 o'clock.

Shaner will play Carnegie at Denny grounds today. Carnegie will be strengthened by Kinney. McCaffery and Lynch of last year's Bridgeville team.

The Leach Juniors have no game for today. Any good 10 or 11-year-old team wanting a game call up 1472 Court. Bell 'phone, between 8:30 and 1 o'clock, and ask for Charles G. Weber.

The Pennsylvania Company Athletic club baptized their new uniforms in a twilight game with the Pennsylvania Lines club and went down to defeat before B. Keogh's masterly pitching.

The Fairbanks will play at Vandergrift today. The train will leave the Fort Wayne station, Allegheny, at 10:23 a. m. If it is necessary to board the train at the Fort Wayne station, while all other players must report at the Chestnut street station.

CHICAGO'S WIN LONG BATTLE

Defeat Athletics in Fourteen-inning Game Which Proves a Warm Contest.

WADDELL'S FIRST DEFEAT

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—Chicago defeated Philadelphia today in a hard-fought 14-inning game. Bad throws gave each team two runs in the early innings. In the 14th Jones beat out a bunt and scored on George Davis' double. Both White and Waddell pitched great ball. It was Waddell's first defeat of the season, he having won ten straight games. Attendance 5,082. Score:

LIGHT HARNESS STARS CARDED AT BRUNOTS

Entries of New Arrivals at the Island Track Will Add Keenness to the Sport.

Six events, which will bring together many of the leading trotters and pacers at Brunots island, is the program arranged for this afternoon by the Matinee club. Interest will center in the free-for-all pacing race, which has four starters, all of which have records better than 2:07, with the exception of Lady May, who has a mark of 2:07¼.

It will be the second meeting of Terrace Queen and Frank Wilson, these two pacers having measured strides last Saturday. Frank Wilson winning. With Sufreet and Lady May in the same race with the Queen and Frank Wilson, a contest of interesting character is assured.

There were three starters in the free-for-all trot, Redwood, Robin C. and Uncle William. The last named horse arrived from the south this week and is said to be in good shape for the local races. Cars for the track leave Fifth avenue and Market street every 15 minutes, beginning at 12:45. The program for today follows:

2:12 class, pacing—Ben Gee, br. g., J. C. McCune; Sweet Marie, br. m., J. C. Wilson.

2:14 class, trotting—Glory, ch. g., J. F. Burke; Oxar, ch. g., R. H. Boggs; Joe N., blk. g., J. C. McCune; Blix, b. m., H. Buhl, Jr.

Free-for-all, trotting—Robin C., ch. g., R. H. Boggs;

GRADUATES COME WITH JUNE ROSES

Shadyside Academy and Allegheny Preparatory School Hold Exercises.

BOTH HAVE BIG AUDIENCES

June roses and graduates invariably bloom together. This year the roses are a week in advance of ordinary seasons, and the graduates likewise are a week in advance with their gowns and mortar boards. Two fashionable audiences last night applauded local graduates, the Shadyside academy and the Allegheny Preparatory school holding their commencements simultaneously.

The friends of the Shadyside academy graduates gathered in the Gayety theater to hear the oratory of favorite sons. Orations were delivered by William B. Hetzel, Kenneth R. Cunningham, John G. Buchanan, Dickson K. Coyle and Andrew H. Ebberts. Topical songs were sung with good effect by Morrow Sheppard and the academy glee club. The class address was delivered by the Rev. Dr. J. Kinsey Smith, pastor of the Point Breeze Presbyterian church. The theater was handsomely decorated in blue and gold, the academy colors, and each member of the class wore the patriotic tints in his buttonhole. Pretty girls in the audience, also carried out the scheme in their sashes. J. L. Goldsmith expects to enter a business career. The other members of the class and the colleges which they expect to attend are as follows:

Arthur Carl Amsler, Lehigh; Carl Hermann Bontmeger, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute; Allen Breed, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute; John Grier Buchanan, Princeton; Dickson Kearns Coyle, Cornell; Alden Curry Cummins, Lehigh; Kenneth Reese Cunningham, Amherst; Harry Milo Curry, Lehigh; William Walker Darsie, Lafayette; Andrew Howard Ebberts, Cornell; Thomas James Gillespie, Jr., Princeton; Rees Hawkins, Yale; William Barr Hetzel, Princeton; Julian Kennedy, Jr., Yale; William Walters Mervin, Western University of Pennsylvania; Steuben Butler Murray, Jr., Princeton; James McCutcheon, Cornell; Thomas Brown McIlvaine, Cornell; Donald Ross, Lehigh; Joseph Morrison Salsbury, Princeton; John Wilson Shaw, University of Pennsylvania; Eustace Morrow Sheppard, Yale; Alfred Joseph Sichelstiel, Princeton; Theodore Marshall Uptegraff, Lehigh; James Archibald Williams, Yale; Curtis Miller Yohe, Cornell.

The graduating exercises of the class of '05 of the Allegheny reparatory school were held in the Calvary Methodist church, Allegheny. About 600 persons attended the exercises. The Rev. Dr. James M. Thoburn offered the prayer. Miss Margaret F. L. Trimble delivered an essay on "Why Girls Should Go to College," and Miss Jean Thoburn on "The Next Step." The diplomas were awarded by William R. Thompson, president of the board of trustees. There was singing by the school chorus, the girls' glee club and the upper school, and Miss Gertrude Clark sang "Time is Flying." Miss Perry of Boston, delivered an address on the "Power of Obedience. The following are the students who graduated:

The Allegheny Preparatory school was founded and incorporated in 1899. The school has emphasized its non-commercial character and the development of character in the individual pupil. Next term the school will have one or more representatives in eight different colleges and will have the representatives of 12 colleges on its teaching staff. Much attention was paid last year to physical training, and the girls' basket ball team won the Greater Pittsburgh championship. Edmond L. Merritt, Jr., a graduate of Harvard, will have charge of the physical training of the boys, and will give practically all of his time to the work. A graduate of the Pratt or Drexel institute will have cargo of the luncheon kitchen, which is to be a kind of laboratory for practical ends.

The Potter Literary society of the Carnegie High school gave an interesting entertainment last evening in Carnegie hall, Carnegie. A farce, "Nellie Was a Lady," made up the program. Every member of the graduating class participated. The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Joseph M. Duff, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, tomorrow evening in the church, and the commencement exercises will take place Friday evening in Carnegie Music hall. The Rev. Dr. S. B. McCormick will address the class.

The Avalon High school commencement, held last evening in the new school hall was a triple event, including the graduation exercises, the farewell of Prof. C. E. Dickey, the retiring principal, who has been elected assistant county superintendent of schools, and the dedication of the hall. The 11 graduates were addressed by Chancellor C. B. McCormick of the eWstern University of Pennsylvania. The class night exercises were held by the class last evening as part of the commencement. The following are those who received diplomas: Audley White, Ethel Watt, Jay Linn, Florence Linstrom, Bertha Coy, Clarence Reece, George Biard, Chalmer Oakley, Viola Barr, Anna Crawford and Ellen Jones.

ALEXANDER TO PAINT NEW INSTITUTE WALLS

Carnegie Library Trustees Award Art Contract to Former Pittsburgher for $175,000.

John W. Alexander, the former Pittsburgh artist, yesterday was commissioned by the board of trustees of the Carnegie library to make the mural decorations of the new Carnegie institute. He will be called, under the contract, to paint the walls of three corridors of the art and science wing of the building, and will receive $175,000 for the contract.

Mr. Alexander had a long consultation yesterday with the trustees and the plans for the building were thoroughly examined. It was finally decided to adorn the walls of the east wing corridors on the three floors of the building. The corresponding entrance of the west wing leading to the music hall will be finished in marble columns and balustrades.

"I have not made definite plans as to the character of the paintings," said Mr. Alexander after the meeting. "However, they will be more or less of a historical nature. Possibly the second floor will be devoted to pictures which shall typify the tremendous industries of Pittsburgh, and the first floor will give place for those showing the results of Pittsburgh's thrift and enterprise. It will be a glorious work and I consider that I have been accorded a very great honor. I shall remain here until Sunday and in the meantime expect to look about in search of ideas. The canvases will be painted at my studio in the Catskills."

LYNCH BUYS SEMINARY.

President of the H. C. Frick Coke Company to Build Residence on Site. School's Future in Doubt.

GREENSBURG, June 9.—(Special.)—Thomas Lynch, president of the H. C. Frick Coke Company today bought the Greensburg seminary for $30,000. Immediately after the commencement exercises next week, the razing of the buildings will be begun preparatory to the erection of a home. He will spend several hundred thousands of dollars on his home.

The future of Greensburg seminary, with which it is proposed to merge Thiel college of Greenville, is problematical. The sessions of the school will be suspended, entirely, pending the ruling of the Mercer county courts on the petition asking that the charter of Thiel be amended to allow its removal to Greensburg. If the petition is granted, Thiel and the seminary will be established in buildings to be erected in East Greensburg. The seminary may go out of existence, if the Mercer county court decide against the trustees.

Gribble, dated November 15, 1904, and recorded in the collector's office of the port of Pittsburgh, in the district of Pittsburgh, in liber 10 of mortgages, folio 76, etc., default having been made in payment of certain of the installments of principal and interest by the said mortgage secured to be paid, and certain other terms and conditions of said mortgage having been broken and violated, I have taken possession of the mortgaged property, and will sell the same, to satisfy said mortgage debt and interest, of fifty-four hundred sixty-one

STOCKS CLOSED FIRM IN A DULL MARKET

Transactions in New York Were the Smallest for Any Day This Year—Brewing Securities in Demand on the Pittsburgh Board

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

Transactions on the New York stock exchange during the first hour yesterday amounted to 50,000 shares. During the remainder of the session the average was 30,000 shares an hour, and the total for the day was the smallest for the year. Despite the stagnation the tone of the market was steady to firm, and in the final hour prices reached the highest level, the close being dull but steady. Transactions for London account were variously estimated at between 2,000 and 5,000 shares, and the foreign markets were reported to be as dull as those at home. In London there was the excuse of an impending double holiday on Saturday and Monday. In Wall street the excuse was that nearly all the large professional operators were absent from the exchange. Since the imposition of the transfer tax, speculation has been a little more expensive, and the fluctuations in the market have been so narrow that it has been impossible to "scalp" a profit. It is no reflection upon intrinsic values nor upon general trade conditions that a group of what is called "floor traders" have ceased their operations, and the extreme dullness of the market merely emphasizes the professional character of the dealings on some of the big days of the recent past.

The weakest stock in the market yesterday was Steel Foundries preferred, which sold off to 39½, a new low record on this movement, but subsequently recovered most of the loss. The largest net gain was scored by Smelting common, which advanced from 109⅝ to 111⅝ for the final sale. United States Steel closed unchanged for the common and ½ lower for the preferred. Amalgamated Copper after selling off to 77⅞ recovered to 80, the gain for the day being ⅝ per cent. The remainder of the industrial list was unchanged.

Louisville & Nashville was the strongest of the railroad list, advancing to 146⅜ and closing near the top. The basis for the pool operations in this stock is said to be expectations of an increase in the dividend rate to 6 per cent at least. Comparing the present price with that of Pennsylvania at 124, which has been paying 6 per cent for years, Louisville & Nashville appears to have already discounted an increase in dividends. Southern Railway common closed fractionally higher, and Missouri Pacific advanced 1 per cent to 98 on light trading. Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and St. Paul each closed ⅛ higher for the day. Rock Island, Reading and Baltimore & Ohio each closed ¼ per cent lower. New York Central lost ¾ per cent. The tractions were nominally unchanged.

The call loan market remained unchanged at 2½ to 2¾ per cent, the final loan being at 2½ per cent. Owing to the shifting of cash on account of the Japanese loan subscriptions, and the cross movement of currency between New York and San Francisco, the forecasters of the weekly bank statement found their task more difficult than usual. It is estimated, however, that today's statement will show a net loss of between $1,000,000 and $1,500,000 cash.

On the Pittsburgh stock exchange there was a very fair demand for Brewing securities and prices were steady to firm. Sales of Independent Brewing 6s went up $32,000 at 107, and the preferred stock sold at 49½. More than 900 shares Pittsburgh Brewing common changed hands at 26, and the bonds sold to the extent of $10,000 at 115, an advance of ½ per cent. The preferred stock held steady at 47. National Fire Proofing preferred was also fairly active at 34⅛ to 34¼. Crucible Steel preferred and United States Steel preferred each lost ½ per cent on very light transactions. Pittsburgh Oil and Gas rallied to 68⅝, but closed offered at 68¼. Manufacturers Light and Heat closed ½ point lower at 55½. Westinghouse Electric was unchanged at 82. Tonopah Extension declined to $4.28, a block of 825 shares changing hands at that price, but the stock closed at $4.50 bid. The remainder of the list was dull and featureless.

Brewing securities in good demand and prices firmer.

Crucible preferred and United States Steel preferred each closed ½ point off.

Over 700 shares Fireproofing preferred absorbed at 34½ to 34¼.

Tonopah Extension broke to $4 28 and recovered to $4 50 bid.

IN WALL STREET

Dullest day of the year on the stock exchange.

Sales only 183,300 shares stock and $2,770,000 bonds.

Tone of the market firm and prices closed at the highest.

Smelting and Copper led the advance in the industrials.

Louisville & Nashville scored the largest gain in the railroad list.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

It is generally regarded as a good sign if prices hold firm in a dull market, and this was the most prominent feature yesterday. Several times during the week professional traders apparently tested sentiment, and found that while the public was not buying to any large extent, it was not selling. In Pittsburgh there was a slight improvement in the demand, and bonds were firm, but as a whole the market was distressingly dull. The outlook is not favorable for any immediate change.

Only 25 shares Pittsburgh Oil and Gas changed hands yesterday, which served to emphasize the prevailing speculative apathy, because here was a stock that had the benefit of one of the best oil strikes of the year in a new pool that promises to largely increase the net income of the company.

Inside interests took the block of 825 shares Tonopah Extension at the decline, and later bid the price up to $4 50 at the close.

If "Poor Investor" will call in person or send a representative to the Financial Editor of The Gazette he may receive additional information relative to his recent inquiry.

The calendar which the Real Estate Trust Company is delivering to its patrons and friends is certainly a work of art that will be appreciated by recipients.

W. W. McCandless, manager of the Pittsburgh clearing house, left last night for his annual vacation. During his absence W. W. McCandless, Jr., his son, of the Exchange National bank, will preside at the daily clearings.

The French Westinghouse Company has just closed an important contract for a railway installation in Italy, involving the use of quadruple 75-horse power single phase motor equipments with the Westinghouse electro pneumatic control. The contract also calls for the erection of a power house and the complete line construction. The power house apparatus will be made by the French company at its Havre works, but the single phase motors and electro pneumatic control will be the same as that which has already been installed upon several lines in the United States by the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, and will be supplied by that company from its Pittsburgh works.

Charles L. Cammann has posted his New York stock exchange membership for transfer to J. H. Childs of Pittsburgh. The price is understood to have been $72,500. Mr. Cammann has been a member of the exchange since 1880 and ranks sixth in the list of members in point of time.

The Commonwealth Trust Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, payable July 1 to stock of record June 30.

The General Electric Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, payable July 15 to shareholders of record June 19.

Chicago & Alton directors have declared the regular semi-annual dividend of $2 on the preferred stock, payable July 1 to stock of record June 14.

The Denver & Rio Grande Railroad Company has declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 2½ per cent on its preferred stock, payable July 15. The preliminary report for the fiscal year ending June 30 shows a surplus, after charges, etc., of $520,520, against a surplus last year of $234,418.

A decision involving the sale of a seat on the Baltimore stock exchange was rendered this week by Judge Dennis in the circuit court. Edwin S. Zell had obtained a preliminary injunction to restrain the officials of the exchange from selling a seat held in the name of Frank J. Merceret, but to which Zell claimed ownership. The sale was in prospect at the instance of certain of the creditors of Merceret. Judge Dennis dissolved the injunction, holding that for any debts due by Merceret the only assets liable under the constitution of the exchange. Zell explains that he had the seat placed in Merceret's name for the convenience of trading. This decision will be of interest in Pittsburgh, where several seats are owned by one broker, but are carried in the names of employes.

Advices received in Chicago yesterday from Youngstown are positive that Frank Hackus, vice president of the American Steel and Wire Company, will succeed Alexis W. Thompson as president of the Republic Iron and Steel Company.

The heavy falling off in the volume of the trading is responsible for the sharp decline in the price of New York stock exchange seats, a sale being reported yesterday at $72,500. The previous sale 10 days ago was at $78,000, and the high price of $84,000 was paid within the year.

There was more variety in the New York bond market than in stocks and prices there were well maintained. There was an active speculation in Central of Georgia income bonds. Total sales, par value, $2,770,000. United States 3s registered declined ¼ per cent on call.

Opinions over today's bank statement are mixed, owing to the large special operations which have occurred, including the shifting of deposits caused by the transfer of the Japanese loan proceeds. Call money was slightly firmer, but not enough so to be an influence. Some consideration is beginning to be given, however, to the preparations for the half yearly settlements. The usual interest and dividend disbursements may have more than the customary supplement in the demand to replenish reserves by the trust companies. It is expected that the operations of this week have been to the advantage of the trust company reserves at the expense of the bank reserves. The sub-treasury has absorbed during the week about $1,500,000 more than the banks have gained on the interior movement. Some large changes in the various items of the bank statement are likely to result.

To-day's issue of money contains the following table showing the earnings of local banks and trust companies for the year where the percentage as to capital was in excess of 10 per cent:

EIGHTH STREET SITE IS SOLD

D. H. Wallace Gets $90,000 for Old Location of Working Girls' Home.

MANY DEALS IN ALLEGHENY

Through the office of George Bros. and the Home Trust Company the property in Eighth street, formerly occupied by the Home for Working Girls was sold yesterday for $90,000. About two years ago D. H. Wallace and an out-of-town capitalist bought the property for $74,000 and later Mr. Wallace became the sole owner. He has now sold it to a local firm that will erect on the lot a warehouse at least six stories high and which it will rent for an investment. The site is 74x100 feet, facing on the west side of Eighth street, near-by opposite the Second Presbyterian church, and was formerly improved with a four-story brick building used as a girls' home. This building was torn down several months ago by order of the city building inspector, as the blasting for the foundations of a warehouse in the rear, facing Seventh street, threatened to bring down the building, which was one of the oldest in that part of the city. The sale affords a good example of the steady enhancement that has been evident in property values all over the downtown district since 1903, for although the property brought only $1,000 a front foot then, it sells now for $1,218 a front foot, or $12 16 a square foot.

Facts and Figures Furnished.

Some reliable information regarding the extensive dealing that has been going on in the First ward of Allegheny lately was furnished yesterday by the Real Estate Trust Company, which announced the sales of 12 properties it has sold since the recent buying movement started. The total of the deals is about $74,000 and most of the lots were bought by two investors, who are Allegheny men and who, it is said, are not taking the properties for re-sale, but for any buying syndicate. R. F. Gill bought from Evaline Holden 618 Ann street, a frame house on 20x80 feet, for $2,000; from T. D. Clark 629 Ann street, a frame house on 21x33 feet, for $3,000; from Mary B. Clark, four good frame houses on 43x70 feet at the northwest corner of Kilbuck and Corry streets, for $8,500; from Mary McLaughlin 600 Ann street, a good frame house on 18x85 feet, for $1,250. H. E. Hughes bought from Robert Carson, Jr., 627-629 West Lacock street, four frame houses on 41.7x100 feet, for $3,000; from J. H. Westerman two good brick houses on 40x100 feet in Robinson street, for $6,500; from Thomas Rell and others, a large brick house and a church on 40x88 feet at Kilbuck and School streets, for $7,500. J. M. Jeffries purchased from Blair & Byler 503-507 Craig street, five brick and four frame houses on 50.10x100 feet, for $8,000, and from Isaac alley, for $18,500. The B. M. Hanna property at 110 Craig street was sold to a local investor for $4,500, the lot being 20x150 feet and having on it two houses. R. W. Cox bought two properties. One was the J. W. Hair property, 612-614 West Robinson street, consisting of frame houses on 41x36 feet, which cost $8,000. The other was the J. C. Willis lot, 25.6x52 feet, improved with a two-story frame house at 611-613 Ann street, which brought $2,500. Otto Brumer also bought from Henry Smith 821 Rebecca street, a frame building on 20.3x64 feet, for $3,000. The average price paid in these sales was less that $2 a square foot, and the largest lot in the list, the Bell property at Kilbuck and School streets, which contains 3,880 square feet, brought only $1.40 a square foot. This shows conclusively the opportunities for good investments in the lower wards of Allegheny, either for small manufacturing or warehouse sites, and it is not strange that shrewd investors are getting into the market and picking up properties that are bound to enhance in value.

New East End Lot Plan.

A new allotment to be called Oakhurst will shortly be opened on the hillside back of Belmar place, in the Twenty-first ward. The property belongs to John Baker and Edwin M. Erickell, who have put it in the hands of the Anderson Building Company. This concern has agreed, among other things, to build 28 good houses on the plan, which includes 138 lots, averaging 25x150 feet each. The property fronts in Mt. Vernon and Upland streets and Spencer avenue and is only a short distance from the car line. The Burns & Reilly Real Estate Company will handle the plan, which will be started with a public sale soon.

The final papers were signed yesterday in the purchases which Warren & Gray have made for the St. Agnes Roman Catholic congregation at the northeast corner of Fifth avenue and Robinson street. The total frontage secured is 250x400 feet, for which the church paid $74,000. A deal was also pending for the purchase of another lot, but this was not consummated. On the lots there will be erected a church, parish house and parochial school at a total cost of about $250,000.

Borland & Waddell have over 50 men and a dozen teams at work on the old Sherman plan at Swissvale, which they bought recently. The entire remaining frontage is being graded down to a level with the streets, most of the work being along Monroe, Lafayette and Church streets. The firm expects to have the property in first-class shape for market by the latter part of this month, when a public sale will be held of both houses and lots.

Realty Firm Broadens Its Scope.

The real estate firm of Baldridge & Watson, which was formed the first of the year, will hereafter be known as Baldridge, Watson & Co. The change is made necessary by the taking in of J. R. Graham as a partner and is accomplished by the new firm acquiring, in addition to its three rooms at 1418 Farmers' Bank building, the large room at 1419, making a very fine offices suite. Mr. Graham is a life-long Pittsburgher and has been identified with leading manufacturing interests for many years, having been engaged in the manufacture of glass, steel and glass novelties. He now has extensive interests in the glass works at Wheeling and Clarksburg. He will devote his entire time to organizing and the firm is already lining up some good industrial propositions.

Through the office of C. G. Mitchell, Sarah McHendry has sold to B. J. Logan a 11-room, reception-hall brick house on 40x100 feet in Euclid avenue near Wallesley avenue. Nineteenth ward, for $14,700. The house is finished throughout in hardwoods and is finely decorated. As part payment Mr. Logan tenders a 11-room, reception-hall brick house on 37.8x100 feet in Hampton avenue, Hampton place, Wilkinsburg, which was put in at $12,000.

John J. Lauk of Monongahela City has bought from W. D. Hays of Venango county an improved property 40x110 feet, on the northwest side of Amber street, near Friendship avenue, Twentieth ward, for $11,500.

The Wool Market.

BOSTON, MASS., June 9.—The Boston Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow: The wool market is in a strong position and spot wools have been freely taken by manufacturers at good prices. Dealers are not so desirous of selling more contracts until some deliveries are made. Stocks are light for this time of the year. The sale at Spalako, Oregon, on June 8, has practically cleaned up that state. Buying is still going on actively in Ohio and Michigan. About 10,000 to 15,000 bales have arrived here from the last London sales. Australia and South American wools are well cleaned and the new arrivals are now being awaited by purchasers. The foreign markets are very strong, leaving with only small supplies on hand. The shipments of wool from Boston to date from December 2, 1904, according to the same authority, are 105,791,108 pounds, against 91,191,982 pounds at the same time last year. The receipts to date are 125,728,841 pounds, against 93,448,942 for the same period last year.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, June 9.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at a decline of 5@10 points under continued Wall street liquidation and some selling, following lower European cables and heavier receipts. There was a fair demand from trade interests and shorts at the decline, and the market during the middle session ruled fairly steady around the opening prices. The close was steady at a net decline of 5@15 points. Sales were 51,500 bags, including June at 6.18c, July at 6.20c, September at 6.25@6.40c, October at 6.45c, December at 6.60@6.65c, February at 6.75c, March at 6.75@6.80c and May at 6.80@6.90c. Reduced Cable Rates to Japan.

The Postal Telegraph-Cable company announces a reduction of 20 cents per word on business for Japan, taking effect July 1. The present rate of $1 93 per word from Pittsburgh, which has been in effect since the commercial Pacific cable was completed, is a reduction of 68 cents per word from the rate via New York and the Atlantic ocean routes, which is $2.16 per word. The rate on and after July 1 will be $1.33 per word, exclusive of the name of the originating point and the date.

LOCAL MARKETS HAVE AN EXCEEDINGLY DULL FIT

Not a Single Change Made in Quotations Yesterday, but Good Trade Conducted.

For the first time in a long while there was not a single change to note in market quotations yesterday. Business was fair, but the supply and demand was about equal and there seemed no reason for prices to shift. Ten carloads of strawberries were received, many of them of inferior quality. This prevented any change being made in that line. New potatoes are getting plenty and may be expected lower next week. Fourteen carloads of them were received yesterday.

The butter market shows no change, and whether reduction is expected by some dealers next Monday. The cheese market is in about the same condition it has been for a week or more, and a further recession is not improbable.

The Northwestern Miller, the authority of the flour trade, states that there is no improvement in the situation. The output of the Minneapolis mills for the week ending last Tuesday was 206,000 barrels, which was at least 36,000 barrels short of the production for the same week in 1904. Buyers refuse to purchase in large quantities, being confident that the present prices of wheat are inflated, and there will be a collapse as soon as the speculators get things where they want them.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania lines—8½ cars hays, 10 cars, 2 feed, 18 corn, 1½ straw. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie—1 feed. Baltimore & Ohio—1 hay, 1 corn.

Market conditions remained unchanged yesterday and no changes were made in quotations. The market has been unusually firm for a couple of days, and eastern dealers seem to be waiting for a move on the part of the western men. These are largely dependent on crop reports.

Master Mechanics' Association Makes Changes in Its Constitution

The Master Mechanics' association has been placed on a representative basis by the presentation of an amendment to the constitution. The amendment provides for the appointment of representative members by the president of each railroad, and it gives such members one additional vote for each 100 locomotives in operation or in process of purchase by the road or system he represents. The representative member is expected to pay, in addition to his original dues, an amount for each additional vote as may be determined by the executive committee at each convention. The amended constitution also provides for the adoption of standard construction or practice by letter ballot. By the establishment of this form of membership the organization will be enabled to secure the necessary experts and assistance to carry to completion such tests as would be mutually beneficial to railroads, and the charter of the association as a mechanical body will be greatly enhanced.

Officers of Voluntary Relief.

The result of the election of the Voluntary Relief association of the Pennsylvania lines was announced yesterday by George L. Peck, general manager and chairman of the advisory committee, as follows: Division No. 1, including the eastern and middle divisions, Charles D. Alexander, with 1,901 votes. Division No. 2 including the Cleveland and Pittsburgh, Merrick and Erie and Ashtabula divisions, John Haley, with 974 votes. Division No. 3, including the western and Pennsylvania company Chicago terminal divisions, John H. McCullagh, with 1,000 votes. Division No. 4, including the Pittsburgh division and the Cincinnati and Muskingum Valley divisions, W. J. Merrick, with 294 votes. Division No. 5, including the Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Richmond, and Cincinnati, Lebanon and Northern divisions, Matthew J. Farrell, with 1,174 votes. Division No. 6, including the Logansport, Louisville and Panhandle Chicago terminal divisions, Edward W. Alexander, with 776 votes. Division No. 7, including the Grand Rapids and Indiana, Theodore E. Ilaberkorn, with 413 votes. Division No. 8, including the Toledo railroad, William T. Brown, with 762 votes. The men elected will take office July 1 and will serve for one year. The total number of votes cast was 15,998.

Tristram Rumor Bewilers.

The report was printed in Cleveland yesterday morning that the management of the Wabash Railroad Company contemplated the promotion of Charles A. Chase from general passenger and ticket agent to passenger traffic manager, and that Fred H. Tristram, now assistant general passenger agent, with headquarters at Pittsburgh, would succeed Mr. Crane as general passenger agent. Mr. Tristram said yesterday he has no information of any kind on the subject and that so far as he is concerned the report is certainly baseless, inasmuch as the logical path to assume the title of general passenger agent in case of Mr. Crane's advancement would be H. W. Taylor, now assistant general passenger and ticket agent at St. Louis, who has held that position for many years.

Freight Agents Meeting.

The freight soliciting force of the Pennsylvania railroad, numbering 125 division freight, commercial and soliciting agents, are holding a meeting in Philadelphia to-day and tomorrow, for the purpose of mutual study and exchange ideas on business. Addresses are to be made by Vice President Thayer, Freight Traffic Manager Pitcairn and General Freight Agent Baker.

Railroad Notes.

C. B. Learn has been appointed traveling passenger agent of the Erie railroad, with headquarters in Youngstown. He succeeds F. S. Howard. The appointment is effective June 15.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has begun work on the Sherman Reese property in Washington, Pa., on which it is proposed to build a new station.

Col. John M. Schoonmaker, vice president and general manager of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, went yesterday to Cleveland on business connected with the Lake Shore road.

It is announced that the management of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie road contemplates running excursions from Pittsburgh to Cleveland on July 4.

FINANCIAL AND TRADE NOTES.

NEW YORK, June 9.—The Republic Iron and Steel Company will begin making steel rails in July. It has just closed orders for 20,000 tons of standard sections, to be delivered during the last half of the year. Although the Republic company is not a member of the steel rail pool, the 20,000 tons were taken at the pool rate of $28 per ton. It is understood the Republic company will adhere to the rail pool schedule.

NEW YORK, June 9.—(Special.)—Of the total anthracite and coke pig iron production in May the United States Steel Corporation and the 12 other companies making their own supplies made 1,280,583 tons out of the grand total of 1,907,586. This

LITTLE EVIDENCE AGAINST LOOMIS

Minister Russell Gave No Convincing Testimony of Dishonesty.

IS QUESTIONED BY BOWEN

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9.

In Secretary Taft's office today faced each other the principal actors in the diplomatic drama which has grown out of the charges preferred against the official integrity of Francis B. Loomis, assistant secretary of state, by Herbert W. Bowen, American minister to Venezuela.

W. W. Russell, American minister to Colombia, reached Washington today to tell what he knew of the actions of Mr. Loomis as minister to Venezuela when Mr. Russell was secretary of the American legation at Caracas. Soon after Mr. Russell reported to Secretary Taft Mr. Bowen and Mr. Loomis arrived at his office. Mr. Bowen and Mr. Loomis did not speak but took seats on opposite sides of the room.

Mr. Russell gave no convincing evidence of any dishonest act on the part of Mr. Loomis. Secretary Taft considers that his testimony did rather clear up some points of the case hitherto obscured. As one witness is to be examined tomorrow the case is not yet closed. Mr. Bowen has asked that he be allowed to go to Caracas to get further proof against Mr. Loomis.

Mr. Bowen expressed satisfaction with what Mr. Russell told. When Mr. Russell was sent for three weeks ago Mr. Bowen said to Secretary Taft: "If Mr. Russell tells the truth my case is won." It can be stated, however, that Mr. Russell's testimony was not so convincing as this.

At the hearing this morning Mr. Bowen, at the suggestion of Secretary Taft began to cross examine Mr. Russell with questions concerning the charges against Mr. Loomis. Most interesting of all was his inquiry of Mr. Russell.

"Did you not tell me that you did all the work and Loomis got all the money?"

Mr. Russell replied to this. It is learned from an authoritative source, first, that he did not believe he said just that, but that he may have said that he did all the work and "they" got all the bonds, referring to the claimants Mercado and others, who were paid their adjudicated claims through the agency of Mr. Russell, acting under an arrangement with the secretary of the treasury of Venezuela.

Mr. Bowen pressed him as to whether he did not say Mr. Loomis got the money. Mr. Russell said he was not certain of this. At the conclusion of the hearing Mr. Bowen handed Secretary Taft a letter which concluded as follows:

"I now have the honor to respectfully suggest that if any doubt remains in your mind as to the culpability of Mr. Loomis, I be ordered to return to Caracas, and that, with Capt. Parker, American military attache, and Consul Hurst I be instructed to take the testimony of any and all persons acquainted with the facts in this case, and be provided with letters requesting Mr. Loomis' bankers and the Venezuelan government to give us certified copies of any papers that may tend to prove the nature of Mr. Loomis' transactions while he was minister to Venezuela."

Mr. Taft will submit this application to the president before acting upon it.

TO ABOLISH STORES.

Proceedings Are Instituted Against the Frick Coke Company by District Attorney.

HARRISBURG, June 9.—Alfred B. Jones, district attorney of Fayette county, instituted proceedings before Attorney General Carson today to abolish the company stores conducted by the H. C. Frick Coke Company under the name of the Union Supply Company in the bituminous regions of Southwestern Pennsylvania.

Mr. Jones is acting for Joseph Hartman and George L. Moore of Edenborn, Fayette county, who allege the Union Supply Company owns and operates general stores in Fayette county in which the Frick company is interested, and that the Frick company employes are compelled to patronize the company under threats of discharge. The attorney general has fixed June 21 for a hearing.

LOCAL LIQUOR MAN ON EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

CHICAGO, June 9.—At the National Wholesale Liquor Dealers' convention today the executive committee was increased from five to seven. Those appointed were: Samuel Grabfelder, Louisville; Isaac Guckenheimer, Pittsburgh; George C. Howell, New York city; George P. Dieterle, Cincinnati; August Graff, St. Louis; J. Hazelton Carstairs, Philadelphia, and Henry Lunstein, New York.

STRIKERS' PEACE EFFORTS AGAIN FAIL UTTERLY

CHICAGO, June 9.—Aside from one or two feeble efforts to open peace negotiations, there were no developments today in the teamsters' strike. The chief effort toward a settlement was made by a committee of the teamsters, which attempted to open separate negotiations with the large State street department stores. The attempts at peace failed utterly.

SHIP SUBSIDY CAMPAIGN BEGUN

Republicans Will Try to Put Merchant Marine Bill Through Next Congress.

GEN. GROSVENOR'S APPEAL

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9.

It is the intention of the Republican leaders to try to put a ship subsidy bill through the next congress. Gen. Charles H. Grosvenor, chairman of the house committee on merchant marine and fisheries, has sent out a circular letter to the members of the next house urging them to give the subject their close attention and be prepared to consider such a bill. He says:

"We believe the Fifty-ninth congress must do something in the direction of the improvement of our situation or we shall be practically subservient to the foreign flags in the carrying trade to the foreign markets. We are paying nearly $200,000,000 per annum for freight between American ports and foreign ports and this money goes into the hands of foreign labor and foreign capital, while our own labor and capital, so far as ships go, languish."

Last summer a commission composed of senators and representatives made an exhaustive investigation of the subject and submitted a report with recommendations that were embodied in a bill that was reported to the house and senate at the last session. But the time was too short to take up the subject and pass a bill at that session. The bill as reported provided that all officers and men of the American merchant marine and deep sea fisheries should be enrolled as naval volunteers to serve in the event of war, and that they should receive from the government pay, seamen $25 a year and officers graded up to $100 a year.

It provided for an annual subvention to all American merchant ships based upon their tonnage, and it specified that at least one-sixth of the crew of each should be American citizens. Port dues were provided for and the postmaster general was authorized to make contracts with American vessels for carrying the mails. It is supposed that the bill to be introduced in the next congress will be practically the same as this.

ANOTHER KENTUCKY FEUD.

Young Physician, Charged With Killing Partner, Is Murdered, Presumably by Latter's Friends.

FALMOUTH, KY., June 9.—Dr. Edwards Courtney, a young physician and member of one of the best families in this section, has been assassinated near the village of Neave, Courtney formed a partnership with Dr. William Karney at Leitchfield, two years ago. During the partnership Dr. Karney was shot and killed. Since the occurrence there has been feud in the neighborhood. Karney was a young man of great popularity, belonging to all the secret societies, and when he was killed the societies took up the case and have been forcing a fight on the Courtneys.

Dr. Courtney was under $10,000 bond in the Bracken criminal court on the charge of killing Karney. The sheriff of Bracken county and his deputies are hastening to the scene to prevent further disturbance.

PLAN ERECTION OF A $15,000,000 HOTEL

NEW YORK, June 9.—(Special.)—On the site of the Plaza hotel, at Fifty-ninth street and the Plaza, it is planned to erect within the next year a hotel 15 stories high and having 1,000 rooms. It will cost about $15,000,000. It is hoped to have it ready for occupancy by a year from next autumn.

BALL GAME COSTS GLASS MEN $4,000

When Bryce, Higbee & Co. Will Not Suspend Business, Four Boys Do It for Them.

ACCUSES FATHER OF FRAUD

Four thousand dollars to see a ball game is the record price paid by Bryce, Higbee & Co., glass manufacturers of Homestead, when four of their youthful employes requested that the plant suspend business to permit them to enjoy a quiet afternoon with other devotees of the national game. The firm did not pay this willingly, but the boys, when the boss refused to entertain a motion to adjourn business, threw an assortment of iron scraps, bricks and bread into the glass pots. There was no doubt about the plant closing when this mixture refused to flow into glass, and the boys enjoyed themselves at the ball game.

Harry Brown, Andy Tomchio, Thad McTiernan and John Larkin did not have quite as much fun yesterday when they had to explain to Judge Frazer in juvenile court why they tried to make this new mixture of glass, which caused a suspension of the plant for a week. The boys, who range from 11 to 14 years, and are exceptionally bright, admitted their guilt, but said they did not realize that any great damage would result.

Miss Jennie Hindman, the probation officer, told the court that with this exception the boys had always borne good reputations, and that they told her that "if they had money enough they would pay Mr. Higbee's damages." One of the boys, McTiernan, volunteers to work six months without salary to reimburse the company. His offer was not accepted.

Judge Frazer said it was a bad case, but, inasmuch as it was their first offense, he would turn them over to their parents. He gave them some fatherly advice, and they were all in tears before he made his final order.

Son Against Father.

The trouble between Ferdinand Vitte, Jr., and his father, Ferdinand Vitte, over an estate left by a grandmother is again to court, the son filing a bill in equity against the father, in which he accuses Vitte, Sr., of fraudulently appropriating his share of the estate of Katherine Eisner. The claims he should have received a share from property sold for $2,400.

J. M. Fleming has bought suit against the Pullman company to recover money lost during a trip from Chicago to Pittsburgh in one of the cars of the defendant company. Fleming claims the company is liable for his loss by reason of having dishonest people in its employ.

The first and partial accounting in the estate of Christian I. McKee, deceased, has been filed for audit with the register of wills. The account shows a fund for distribution of $10,616.58, and the orphans' court orders it distributed among the creditors of the estate. Claims amounting to $192,263.43 have been filed, the principal among which are from local banks.

Butter Dealers Indicted.

The grand jury returned true bills in a number of cases in which local merchants and butter dealers are charged with a misdemeanor for violation of the pure food laws. The returns are as follows: Misdemeanor, Alfred Fisher, Martin McAdams, D. J. Elder, Albert Braun, Mrs. M. J. Clark, T. H. Callahan, J. P. Cousin, F. M. Carrigan, M. J. Cunningham, E. J. Dunn, John Dunleavy, Charles Gallant, H. B. Heffley, G. J. Bee, F. A. Hanley, G. B. Hutchesen, John Housten, J. B. Imhoff, T. A. Jiles, G. F. Lonebaugh, J. P. Louther, J. F. Malley, Owen McCann, James Cheswright, Fred A. Preach, embezzlement, Ben Duncan, entering building, Julius Krautman (4), Oscar Klemens; assault and battery, W. S. Clore.

In criminal court Charles Andree, convicted of a felony, was sentenced five years to the penitentiary. Miller Oveskl was sentenced nine months to the workhouse. He pleaded guilty to a charge of aggravated assault and battery. Other sentences were: Charles Kramer, larceny, three months to the workhouse; A. B. Jones, larceny, 60 days to the workhouse; John Slagel, larceny, one year to the workhouse; James Morris, larceny, six months to the workhouse; Dominick Urso, felony, one year to the workhouse; Mike Kosesak, assault and battery, 90 days to the workhouse; James Painter, larceny, four months to the workhouse; William Cunningham, larceny, four months to the workhouse; Howard Hall, larceny, three years to the penitentiary; Howard Moury, larceny, 60 days to the workhouse; James Lubert, carrying concealed weapons, $5 and costs.

Peace Society Officers to Meet.

The executive committee of the Pittsburgh Peace society will meet this evening at the home of Chancellor S. B. McCormick of the Western University of Pennsylvania, to decide what action to take in urging peace between Japan and Russia. Rev. J. Leonard Levy, president of the society, who has just returned from Washington, where he discussed peace terms with the Japanese ambassador, will be present and will report that the ambassador has accepted an invitation to come here as the guest of the society at a date to be fixed later.

MILLER'S SOAP

the half-hour soap, the friend of the cloth. Turns washday into wash-hour; adds to the life of the clothes; takes away the drudgery of laundry work; saves arms—saves backs. For use in the roughest wash or on the daintiest fabric—no hard rubbing—it works in a harmless way, while you wait—and rest. Full particulars inside the
